The Findlater Story

Happy Birthday to us!

It was 200 years ago that Alexander Findlater founded 'Alex Findlater' on Burgh Quay in Dublin selling Irish and Scotch Whiskey, and soon grew his business to include wine, coffee and tea.

Alexander was a successful businessman expanding his interests across Dublin and further afield to include outlets in the UK. He even opened a brewery in North Dublin in 1852 after success exporting Porter to America.

Following Alexander's death in 1873, his nephew, John, took the reins and opened food and wine stores in the main residential districts of Dublin, along with a headquarters in Upper O'Connell Street.

The business continued, managed by three generations of the family, and finally trading as Findlater Wine Merchants from the old bonded vaults under the Harcourt Street Railway Station.

In 2001 the business was purchased by Cantrell & Cochrane and its portfolio became part of Findlater Grants (incorporating Grants of Ireland Ltd.), before merging with Woodford Bourne in 2009 to create the Findlater Wine & Spirit Group, and was rebranded in 2016 as Findlater & Co.

Wine has been at the heart of this company for 200 years and, with hard work, dedication & passion we hope that it will remain that way for another 200.

FINDLATER & Co

As we celebrate our 200th birthday this year, it is a time for reflection

200 years is a long time to be in business, but after the recent disruptions to our way of life; from recession to Covid to cost of living I am minded to come back to one word....Resilience

Resilience keeps you going in the tough times; Resilience keeps you focused; Resilience ensures that you come back stronger. I am sure this is one of the qualities that a young Alexander Findlater had when he set up his wine business on Burgh Quay 200 years ago.

Resilience is also a quality that I've seen in the wine trade over the last number of years. I am always amazed at how our customers have adapted their businesses and grown in the face of adversity

In this, our latest portfolio I am pleased that the Findlater & Co team have been busy developing and tending to the range to bring new wines and new producers to the Irish market ensuring that you, our customers can continue to be at the forefront of consumer trends. We have also been working on two core pillars of our portfolio; Women in Wine and Give Wine a Future

200 <sup>1823</sup>/<sub>2023</sub>

Women In Wine

Over the last number of years, we have been holding seminars and tastings, highlighting the amazing work of several inspirational female winemakers who are making outstanding wines around the world. We endeavour to amplify their voices to ensure that they get the recognition they deserve here in Ireland.

Give Wine A Future

GWAF is the umbrella that we have been using to talk to the trade about sustainability in all its forms. This covers every aspect of sustainability from Social, to Economic to Environmental. We are fortunate that we represent pioneers in the wine trade on sustainability and we will continue to shout about how they are lessening the impact on the planet

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your custom. Our team of highly trained wine specialists including myself, are available across the country to support your business, whether you are an existing customer or one of the many new customers that know and trust Findlater & Co.

Join me in raising a glass to say

Richard Moriarty,

Wine & Spirit Director, Findlater & Co.

The Give Wine a Future movement was born of the realisation that there is an urgent need for Ireland's wine industry to take action and lead by example on climate change. There have been increasingly devastating climate-related events in Europe over recent years, including wildfires, extensive flooding, heatwaves and drought. We are facing a tipping point, and without a commitment to climate action from across industry and society at large, this crisis will become a catastrophe.

Climate action means a commitment to a model of sustainable business, and for wine it goes beyond organic and biodynamic farming. In fact, the biggest carbon footprint for wine producers is everything outside of the vineyard - water management, energy use, packaging and transport.

Big businesses have the power to drive change. Our aim is to educate and inform the wine trade, to help them to make informed choices and educate the consumer in turn. By working together, as individuals and as corporate entities, we can bring about real and lasting change and mitigate against the worst effects of climate change.

Our portfolio lists a collection from producers who go above and beyond in their efforts to be sustainable, across the entirety of their business. They lead by example when it comes to climate action, and we are proud to represent them and bring their wine to you.

Glossary of Terms and References

Producers who are committed to reducing their impact on the planet are marked with the Give Wine A Future logo in this brochure. These producers are going above and beyond in their efforts to promote biodiversity, avoid artificial chemicals or fertilisers in the vineyards and in the winery, conserve and recycle water, reduce energy consumption, pay fair prices for grapes, implement long-term contracts for workers and support their local community. To help you, we have compiled a glossary of commonly used terms around this topic along with a list of our 'Give Wine a Future' producers. Other certifications held by wine estates or producers will be marked with a bracketed reference, as indicated in the following glossary list.

• Biodynamic Certification

This may also be referred to as “Demeter certified”, the accreditation body for biodynamic farming, not just wine. Biodynamic wine means vineyards are farmed organically and biodynamic practices, following lunar cycles and treating the vineyards with natural “biodynamic” preparations, also apply. It's generally low intervention in the winery – natural yeast fermentation, no new oak and minimal SO2 added.

• Biodynamic Practices

This refers to producers who practice organic and biodynamic farming, but may not adhere to all of the biodynamic treatments or lunar phases, therefore opt out of certification.

• Cover Crop

A cover crop is a plant that is used primarily to slow erosion, improve soil health, enhance water availability, smother weeds, help control pests and diseases, increase biodiversity and bring a host of other benefits. On vineyards, it refers to the growth between the rows of vines, that are left rather than being tilled.

• Green Washing

A term used to describe businesses or individuals who market themselves as sustainable or environmentally-friendly in their practices and processes, but their green credentials would not stand up to scrutiny if examined.

• Herbicide Free

Herbicides are essentially chemical weed killers, so if a producer is herbicide-free, it means that they manage grass and weed growth through ploughing and tilling. Some vine-growers also use sheep and other animals to manage grass growth.

• HVE Certification

HVE “Haute Valeur Environnementale” is an accreditation body in France, that awards farmers and growers who take a measured approach from wine cultivation to bottling. It has three levels of accreditation: Level 1 indicates a “basic knowledge” of sustainable practices; Level 2 certification means growers must adhere to 16 environmental standards and Level 3 is the highest award measuring things like soil health, plant health, no artificial herbicides or pesticides, water management and promotion of biodiversity.

• Lightweight Glass

Bottle weight has come under the spotlight in the last 10 years or so, with writers like Jancis Robinson including it, and commenting on it, in her tasting notes. There has been an implicit understanding that a heavier bottle implies a better wine, which is not the case and glass production and glass recycling are major contributors to the carbon footprint of the wine industry.

• Low Intervention Winemaking

Although not legally defined, low intervention winemaking generally means a hands-off approach in the vineyard and the winery – i.e. native yeasts, less new oak, light-or-no fining, no filtration etc

• Lutte Raisonnée

Translating as “logical battle” this term refers to wine makers who manage vineyards sustainably, avoiding chemical treatments. The philosophy is to only intervene with minimal sprays or treatments if the crop is threatened by anomalous weather or climatic events.

• Minimal Intervention Winemaking

Although not legally defined, this term usually means that there is as little interference with the winemaking as possible, for example, natural yeast fermentation, only old oak or no oak used for maturation, minimal battonage, little or no punching down, light pressing, lower SO2 levels (often only added at bottling).

- Natural/Wild Yeast Fermentation

This means that the grapes are fermented using the native yeasts from the vineyard, that are found on the skins of the grape. No cultured or artificial yeasts used.

- Natural Wine

A movement that has developed a passionate following in recent years, but it continues to have a woolly legal framework. Natural wine makers generally adhere to a charter of vine growing and wine making that asserts to make wine as true to its natural and traditional expression as possible. In its truest and authentic form, a “natural” wine is made from organic and/or biodynamic grapes, usually indigenous to the region, fermented with native yeasts and winemaking is completed with as little intervention at the winery as possible. Minimal or zero sulphur is added to the wines.

- No Artificial Fertilisers

No artificial nitrogen or chemical fertilisers applied to vineyards – green manure and other natural fertilisers used instead.

- Pesticide Free

No artificial or chemical treatments for pests in the vineyards – pheromone confusion or a natural pest control philosophy applies instead.

- Plastic Free

Plastic free means no plastic is used on the bottle or the packaging of a wine.

- Regenerative Agriculture

A system of farming principles and practices that seeks to rehabilitate and enhance the entire ecosystem of a farm by placing a heavy premium on soil health with attention also paid to water management, fertiliser use, and more. The practice also reduces carbon dioxide levels by taking CO2 from the atmosphere and storing it in the soil. (www.climaterealityproject.org)

- Sustainable

This is a broad, unregulated term, which if applied with integrity means that a producers takes a holistic view and works towards sustainability in all aspects of production, i.e. organic practices in the vineyard, encouraging biodiversity, planting hedges, no artificial chemicals, resource management (water use and energy efficiency), reviewing alternative packaging solutions. This term is the one most vulnerable to “green washing”, as it is not legally defined. There are varying programmes around the world that try to certify sustainable practices.

- Organic Certification (OC)

A wine can be defined “Organic” when it is produced according to the Regulation of the European Commission (EC) no. 203/2012, that is: (in the vineyard) produced from “organic” grapes and permitted treatments; (in the cellar) produced using only products and processes authorised by the regulation. In February 2012, new EU rules were agreed that identified oenological techniques and substances to be authorised for organic wine, including a maximum sulphite content (set at 100 mg per litre for red wine and 150 mg/L for white/rosé). Label will say “organic wine” and there will be a green leaf logo.

- Organic Practices / Organically Grown Grapes (OP)

This refers to a producer, who has opted not to apply for organic certification but manages the vineyards without use of artificial pesticides or herbicides. Some producers like to have the option to spray the vines if a severe weather event risks the crop, others claim that their viticultural standards go above and beyond those required by the accreditation body. The label may say “made from organic grapes”, but no logo is permitted.

- Vegan Certified (VC) or Vegan Friendly (VF)

If a wine is vegan friendly, it means that the producer has not used any animal products in the winemaking process like fining, where fish products or egg whites may be used.

Bollinger is one of the last family houses in Champagne and is a guardian of tradition, using methods such as barrel fermentation, rare in Champagne today. Bollinger Special Cuvée is a blend composed mostly of reserve wines and 60% Pinot Noir, yielding a precise combination of balance and body. Quality is maintained year after year thanks to a precious collection of reserve wines from the Grand and Premier Cru vineyards, matured slowly in magnums for between five and ten years. Jacques Bollinger, head of the Champagne house from 1918, married Elizabeth Law de Lauriston Boubers who went by the name of Lily, or Tante Lily (Aunt Lily) to family and friends. It was Lily who took the reins when Jacques died, in 1941. She was a hard taskmaster, personally directing operations in both vineyard and winery, and everything from harvest and selection through to fermentation and blending. It is perhaps not surprising that much of Bollinger's success today is traced back to her exacting methods.

The unique, small artisan Champagne house of Ayala can trace its history back to 1860. Ayala is considered a pioneer in the production of low dosage champagnes and introduced its Zero Dosage Brut Nature in 2005. This style shows the purity of Ayala: round, soft, fresh, well balanced with delicate fruit notes and elegant acidity. Where as Pinot Noir is the star at Bollinger, Chardonnay plays the major role at Ayala. The Brut Majeur is the result of the blending of a particular harvest with quality reserve wines. The low dosage reveals the delicate aromas and bouquet. The Rosé will charm you with its finesse and wonderful elegance with more than 50% of Chardonnay in the blend. The limited availability Vintage Blanc de Blancs is an exceptional wine that never fails to impress.

Lanson is one of the historic houses of Champagne with a rich history of crafting exquisite cuvees. The house style is known for its mouth-watering crispness, making it the perfect aperitif style. Since 1760, the house of Lanson has remained family owned. Faithful to its heritage, Lanson Champagnes have always been made the original way, offering an exceptional development of flavours while preserving the natural purity of the fruit. This historical commitment makes Lanson wines fresher, crisp and elegant with a longer ageing potential. A truly unique style.

This superb Trenel Crémant de Bourgogne is produced with Chardonnay grown on clay-limestone soils in the Côte Chalonnaise, perfect for sparkling wine. Bottle fermented in the Champagne/traditional method, the wine is aged for 3 years on its lees before being disgorged - three times the legal minimum. This gives it the excellent autolytic character that makes it so enjoyable.

Bolney Wine Estate is one of the longest established English vineyards and has been making award-winning English wines at its Sussex estate for over 40 years. The sandstone soils are some of the best in the country, providing the ideal setting to grow vines. The Bolney Wine Estate is a haven for wildlife, and through its traditional production methods and cultural practices, avidly promotes and maintains soil health, fertility and stability in its vineyards.

From the slopes of Valdobbiadene, the best terroir for Prosecco, comes artisanal Prosecco. Canevel in local dialect means 'small cellar' and it was set up in 1979 to make exactly that - small parcel Prosecco. A blend of Glera and Chardonnay, this wine has a depth of flavour and a silky mousse that is a step above the typical Prosecco Spumante.

Located between the Carnic Alps and the Venice Lagoon in the heart of Treviso, Vigna Dogarina is a single estate Prosecco producer. From the eagle's nest on top of the winery the entire estate can be viewed; from the small chapel where the harvest festival is held to the manicured rows of vines yielding top quality Glera grapes. Here the focus is single-minded - quality and consistency.

The first sparkling wines were produced at Segura Viudas at the end of the 19th century. Today the company produces Cava which perfectly accompanies any meal from start to finish. The style is vibrant, yet elegant and harmonious.

The estate is named after Daniel Vardon Kennet, a young man from the Channel Island of Guernsey, who fell in love and married into the Spanish wine family of de Ferrer. And the wine - well that is something very special. Cuvée Esplendor is a blend of Pinot Noir, Chardonnay and Xarel-lo (55%/40%/5%) that is made in the Champagne method and is aged on the lees for over 4 years. The fruit comes from selected plots at 550m altitude in the Alt Penedes. Its shows autolytic aromas of brioche and toast bread with a touch of terroir-imparted minerality. This is a very impressive wine.

The Graham Beck wines are a benchmark of quality in South African Cap Classique, traditional method sparkling wines. Cellarmaster Pieter Ferreira creates wines of finesse and elegance, that are bright and taut. The Brut Vintage Rosé is particularly noteworthy. The 2017 vintage is a blend of 89% Pinot Noir and 11% Chardonnay, basket crushed together, and the wine aged on the lees in bottle for four years. This is a delicious and complex vintage sparkler that would give any Champagne a run for its money.

Located in the heart of the Chablis region, J Moreau & Fils is nestled among the rolling, vineyard covered hills for which the region is famous. Founded in 1814, J. Moreau et Fils is a specialist in unoaked Chablis styles and has nearly two centuries of experience behind it and a very strong vision for the future. The erudite and talented Lucie Depuydt is charge of the winemaking (see more on Lucie in our women in Wine section of this booklet). Lucie has a superb knowledge of the soils and terroir of Chablis, and ensures the best grapes are chosen for the style that Moreau wishes to produce. She has made changes in the winery that allow the wines to best express their sense of place. We are now seeing a revitalization of the Moreau wines styles, characterised by a lively minerality and a perfect balance between terroir, fruit, structure and texture, making the wines accessible in their youth while at the same time possessing a great ageing potential.

Domaine Fillon is new to our portfolio. Hervé Fillon and his sister Frédérique Chervaux Fillon are the fourth generation to make Chablis at this family estate. Their vines are 45 years old and the estate produces Chablis wines of real character and at very fair prices.

Mayo native Róisín Curley is a winemaker and one of 420 Masters of Wine in the world. She also has an MSc in Viticulture and Oenology. Róisín helped in winemaking at such illustrious names as Chateau Latour in Bordeaux, where she worked specifically on their biodynamic project, before finding her true love of terroir expression in Burgundy. In 2015 she established her micro négociant-vinificateur business, Maison Róisín Curley. She operates out of a tiny cellar space in Beaune and currently crafts very small quantities of high-quality wines, preferably from organically grown fruit. Her wines have found a receptive audience in her home country and further afield in markets such as Canada and China.

Bearing the name of the founder of the Boisset group, a major force in Burgundy, this label is the flagship of the group. Made in a state-of-the-art winery built between 2014 and 2018, winemaker Grégory Patriat crafts wines of superb balance and finesse. Winemaking techniques are very sympathetic to modern, non-interventionist philosophies and organics/biodynamics are used where possible. Grégory employs an innovative technique of bio-protection to ferment without sulphur and to produce wines he feels have more purity, freshness and terroir expression than how the wines were produced in the past. A favourite wine of ours is the Monthelie Blanc - a wine for people who love Meursault but not its price!

Philippe is famous for being one of the leading lights of the natural wine scene worldwide – although that doesn't always sit well with him. His philosophy is certainly one of minimal intervention but his ideas on winemaking, particularly the use of sulphur dioxide, would be anathema to some of the more dogmatic natural winemakers. Philippe's wines are characterized by wonderful fruit purity and clean structural lines; wines that clearly speak of the villages where they were born. His cellars are based in the heart of the Burgundian capital of Beaune where he crafts small parcels from throughout Burgundy.

This house was founded in 1859 by a gentleman from Georgia, Evgueni Louis Max. Originally a negociant business, it has evolved to become one of the largest organically farmed estates in Burgundy. Located in the Côte Chalonnaise appellations of Rully and Mercurey, organic viticulture is a guiding principle of the House, with the objectives of protecting the environment and producing better wines. The vineyards and the wines are certified by Ecocert. The wines are excellent examples of the high-quality wines these two appellations can produce. In a world where Burgundy prices are rising rapidly, they also represent very good value.

Olivier and his wife Corinne took over their estate, then called Vieux Saint Sorlin, in 1987 when it was very run down. They now run it with their two sons and their partners. Much of the work is by hand and Olivier says their methods are probably not hugely different to how wine was made two hundred years ago. While not certified organic, Olivier uses organic practices. The wines are aged a long time on the lees - often twelve months on the gross lees in barrel and then after racking a further 6 months on fine lees. This gives the wine great protection against oxidation and means that Olivier need only use very small amounts of SO2. These are Mâconnais and Beaujolais wines of real depth that truly reflect their terroirs.

Founded in 1928 by Henri Claudius Trénel, this house produces excellent wines from Mâconnais and Beaujolais and a beautiful Crémant de Bourgogne (as well as fruit liqueurs, which are still a major part of their business). We had been in contact for a number of years and after an excellent tasting with them in early 2022, we decided the time was right to add them to our portfolio. The wines offer genuine value, especially from a region undergoing serious price inflation. We have started with a small range of wines but see ourselves adding more wines over time - if we can get stock, as the wines are in high demand!

Domaine Henri Maire has been nestled in the Jura, a wine region in eastern France between Burgundy in the east and Switzerland in the west, since 1632. For over 300 years generations of Maires succeeded one another, strengthening the Maison's expertise. In a region known for high prices, this Chardonnay is refreshingly affordable.

Set in beautiful countryside, 15 kms from the famous wine districts of Saint-Emilion and Pomerol, Château Méaume shows how tradition and modern technology can combine in the making of a magnificent wine. Mark and Sandra Johnson-Hill, are the second generation making wines here, and they have modernised the winemaking. The quality of the wine continues to improve from year to year. The wine is made 80% from Merlot with equal balance of Cabernet Sauvignon and Cabernet Franc.

The company's founder, Thomas Barton left his native Ireland in the beginning of the 18th century and emigrated to Bordeaux when he was just 30 years old. A true adventurer he founded his wine shipping company in 1725. In 1802 Hugh Barton his grandson and successor teamed up with Daniel Guestier, a French trader to create Barton & Guestier which is today the oldest wine merchant established in Bordeaux. With over three centuries of experience in the wine business Barton & Guestier is the French brand name known to millions of consumers worldwide.

Sophie and Julien Ilbert grow their vines on a limestone plot of 300 metre in altitude along the Lot River. Julien was brought up in agriculture with the family selling grapes to the local co-op until Julien took over fully in 2005, when Chateau Combel la Serre was born, achieving full Ecocert status in 2013, a personal victory for Julien given his grandfather's struggle with illness linked to a lifetime of spraying in the vineyards. These are perfumed wines of finesse and style.

FINDLATER & Co

The Hugel family are faithfully implementing the major principles they inherited from their ancestors and are driven to make Hugel and Alsace wine the great white wines of the 21st century. Hugel wines have become very popular with Irish consumers and wine lovers worldwide, due in no small part to their wonderful versatility with modern food dishes. They are the most flexible of wines in terms of food pairings: cheese, fish, lamb, Indian, Asian, fusion and of course more traditional foods are all enhanced by these wonderful wines. These wines represent real value for money, in particular Hugel Gentil. Hugel Gentil is the only one of our wines that is a blend of several varieties and the perfect introduction to Alsace wines, suited to many occasions. This wine revives an ancient Alsace tradition where wines assembled from noble grape varieties were called 'Gentil'. Gentil 'Hugel' allies the suave, spicy flavour of Gewurztraminer, the body of Pinot Gris, the finesse of Riesling, the grapiness of Muscat and the refreshing character of Sylvaner.

The sons of Patrice Moreux, Arnaud and Julien, cultivate 35 hectares of vines at Pouilly-sur-Loire. They are the sole owners of the parcel of land known as "La Loge aux Moines", a superbly situated historic site in the Pouilly Fumé region where vines were first planted in the 11th century. The wine that bears this name shows the quality of this south-facing vineyard where the soil is pure Kimmeridgian marl. It has great depth of flavour and yet has a finesse that belies the richness of the wine. Their regular cuvee of Pouilly Fumé is also excellent - a blend of three different terroirs of the region, partly fermented in concrete vats, which Arnaud believes adds an extra dimension to the wine.

Roger Champault has slowly grown his estate from just two hectares when he took over it to its current size of twenty hectares. Now assisted by the next generation, his two sons Laurent and Claude, they produce wines that reflect the terroir of Sancerre, yet remain modern with great purity of fruit. We currently bring in just their entry-level wine, Les Pierris, which they were very proud to see used at the wedding of the Princess of Sweden back in 2010. The wine has aromas of white peach and citrus fruits with a lively freshness and minerality on the palate.

The Roger family have been vigneron in the area since the seventeenth century. However, it was not until the early 1970s, when Jean-Max Roger took over 4 hectares from his parents that the estate really started to take off. In 2004 he was joined by two of his sons, Etienne and Thibault. Today they farm 34 hectares, 28 ha in Sancerre and 6 ha in Menetou Salon, across more than 40 different plots taking in all the significant soil types of the region, including the stony clay soils, the kimmeridgian clay, and the classic flint.

The House of Chapoutier has a long and proud family tradition dating back to 1808. Today, seven generations later, Michel Chapoutier carries on this tradition using biodynamic winemaking techniques for his most famous wines (one of the first in France to do so) and to make outstanding wines at all levels. Michel Chapoutier's often daring combination of old and new techniques and his creative solutions to old problems has transformed winemaking in the region and brought many accolades, including much praise from Robert Parker. He has the biggest holding in Hermitage and is also the largest biodynamic producer in France. Chapoutier's commitment to biodynamism is unflinching. The terroir is a living organism and must be respected and reflected through flavours unique to each parcel and vintage rather than strive for a common style. Chapoutier is also recognized by the use of Braille on the labels. Maurice Monier de la Sizeranne owner of the first plot of the Hermitage la Sizeranne - one of Chapoutier's signature wines - is also the inventor of the first version of abbreviated Braille.

The ancestors of Jean Baptiste de Clock have been making wines since the late 17th century, at first in Bordeaux but since 1864 at the Chateau Font-Mars in Mèze on the Mediterranean coast south-west of Montpellier. Here he produces a delicious wine from the local Piquepoul grape. With flavours of tropical fruits and a herbal tinge, the wine has plenty of weight, a rounded texture and a marked freshness that makes it the perfect match for shellfish and seafood.

FINDLATER & Co

Bijou is a crisp, dry, Provencal style Rosé from around Beziers in the South of France. Sophie Valrose was a viticultural expert in the area and this wine is an homage to her. The wine frequently out-scores much more expensive rosés in tastings organised by the wine press.

LANGUEDOC

LANGUEDOC / GASCONY

Carignan is a grape variety that comes into its own as the vines age. The fruit for this chocolatey, rich wine comes from vines of up to 60 years old.

Pale pink colour with subtle red berry and peach on the nose. This is a vibrant, dry Rosé in the Provence style. Fruit forward but with a garrigue complexity.

The domaine of Château des Ferrages is in Pourcieux, halfway between Aix-en-Provence and Saint-Maximin, in the prime plots of the Sainte-Victoire appellation. The coolness of the weather is one of its blessings. Whilst rosé wine was already being made in this domain, hillside plots were quickly identified to produce red wine, and others still for white. Its 28 hectares of vines produce wines that are regularly awarded medals and listed in top wine guides.

In 2008 Stephen and Jeany Cronk took the plunge required to kickstart their journey of becoming winemakers, when Stephen turned down a corporate promotion in London and asked instead for redundancy. They moved to Provence and in 2011 launched their first wine, the 2010 Mirabeau Classic. The wine was very well received, and they have never looked back. Today the range has a number of rose wines including a sparkler, and also features a wonderful pink gin. The wines have won many medals and accolades. In 2022 Stephen was instrumental in setting up the Regenerative Viticulture Foundation, which aims to promote a method of farming that will regenerate soils, restore biodiversity and, crucially, sequester more carbon. Mirabeau also hope to soon attain the gold standard of sustainability, B Corps certification.

This is a beautiful family estate located in the heart of the Bussia zone, now run by Claudio Fenocchio and his young family. This is an estate steeped in the traditions of Barolo. Long post-fermentation times counter-intuitively leading to smoother more elegant and accessible wines. Barolo wines that can be savoured now or can be laid down.

Roberto Anselmi

code	description	case size	vegan	organic	case price	bottle price	closure
R20250	● San Vincenzo	6 x 75cl			€81.00	€13.50	C
R20270	● Capitel Croce	6 x 75cl			€99.00	€16.50	C

R20240	● I Capitelli (Half Bottle)	12 x 37.5cl			€264.00	€22.00	C

For a few decades before the turn of the century Roberto Anselmi was one of the people credited with restoring the rather battered reputation of Soave, and showing to what heights the wines of the region could aspire. However, in the year 2000, Roberto's patience with the DOC finally snapped, as the pressure grew within it to allow even higher yields. His wines are now labelled as IGT Veneto and named after the vineyards or district from which they come. Roberto has continued to make excellent wines and remains one of the most respected white wine producers in Italy, with a slew of Tre Bicchieri awards from Gambero Rosso. Roberto's son Tomasso, who looks after the vineyards and winemaking, and daughter Lisa, who directs marketing, are the next generation and will continue the great work, but Roberto is still very much involved. These are Garganega based wines that age superbly - Julia Harding MW said in a September 2020 article on JancisRobinson.com that a bottle of 2005 San Vincenzo was still very much alive and showing very well - incredible for a wine of this price.

If any name can be synonymous with a wine region and its winemaking it must be Masi. The history of Masi is the history of its vineyards: its name derives from "Vaio dei Masi", meaning "little valley of the Masi" in the Valpolicella Classico zone of Negrar, which was the first vineyard acquired by the Boscaini family, owners of Masi, at the end of the 18th century. Masi produces premium wines which are modern in style but deeply rooted in tradition, using mainly grapes indigenous to the Veneto and utilising time-honoured techniques such as 'appassimento', resulting in wines full of character. Sandro Boscaini is the sixth generation of the family running Masi and is the current company president. He is widely regarded as the de facto authority on winemaking in the Veneto due to his decades of visionary innovation, experimentation and development in the field. Such an outlook resulted in the first 'Ripasso' wine, Campofiorin, as well as adapting similar techniques to create other unique wines such as Masianco and the rest of the 'Super Venetian' family for which Masi is internationally famous.

For over six centuries the Serego Alghieri estate has been an historic reference point for Verona's winemaking and agricultural traditions. It was in 1353 that Pietro, son of the poet Dante Alighieri, purchased land and a villa in the hills of Valpolicella, and the estate is still the property of the descendants of the author of the Divine Comedy. These days the wines of the estate are made and marketed by Masi, whose Boscaiani family bring their years of experience and innovation to bear.

The noble Conti Bossi Fedrigotti family has lived in Trentino for almost 600 years, and for more than 300 of them family members have cultivated vines with love and dedication. Their first vintage was in 1697. The current proprietors, Isabella, Maria Josè and Gian Paolo Bossi Fedrigotti, continue to produce wine on their ancient estates with the same passion as always.

This range of wines represents some of the most popular styles in Irish restaurants, from easy-drinking Pinot Grigios and Sicilian Grillo, to gutsy Montepulciano d'Abruzzo. They are all very well-priced and are among our best-selling wines.

Sean O'Callaghan of Tenuta di Carleone is the man behind these incredible expressions of Sangiovese. Sean unusually eschews all use of wood in favour of concrete tanks for both fermenting and maturing these wines. This choice gives the wines vibrancy and a unique personality amongst the wines of Chianti. Sean is a minimal interventionist and because of this these wines have a very pure expression of Sangiovese. The Chianti Classico, made with Radda fruit, is an absolute gem, while Il Guercio comes from a high altitude vineyard - 700m above Gaiole in Chianti, and undergoes an extended maceration of 4 months in concrete, paradoxically producing a wonderfully elegant wine.

New to our portfolio is Tenuta Buon Tempo, situated in the southernmost part of Montalcino in Castelnuovo dell'Abate. The 12 hectares of vines are surrounded by the property's forest and olive groves and bordered by the Orcia river. They are at a range of altitudes and on an array of different soil types, which offers excellent options when blending the Sangiovese Grosso from the different plots. We are very fortunate to be able to offer their Brunello di Montalcino from the two excellent vintages of 2015 and 2016. The former is ready to drink now and is generous and open. The latter is still quite taut but will be excellent with some time. Their Rosso is a delicious drop and good value for this appellation.

This estate, alongside the family's restaurant in Siena, has been run by the formidable and inspiring Laura Brunelli since her late husband Gianni's passing. They are Brunello wines of unrivalled purity and focus, and a fantastic expression of what the Sangiovese grape can achieve when cultivated with care and compassion. The wines have been reaching new heights in recent vintages, with the Wine Advocate scoring the 2016 Brunello di Montalcino at a perfect 100 points. We receive a very small allocation of these wines each year.

Since Ornellaia's foundation in 1981, this stunning winery has seen the birth of great labels such as Masseto, Ornellaia, Le Serre Nuove and Le Volte. Ornellaia is the flagship wine of the estate and, like Sassicaia below, garners very high scores from critics each year. While it had a later start than Sassicaia, Ornellaia has also become an icon among Italian wines. Axel Heinz is the charismatic winemaker - truly skilled in the production of Bordeaux-facing Italian greats.

The Tenuta San Guido Estate in Bolgheri is the home of the highly sought-after Sassicaia. It was the Marchese Mario Incisa della Rochetta, father of Niccolò, the present owner of the Estate, who pioneered the introduction of non-native vines into the Italian wine scene. In 1968 Sassicaia - a wine which has Cabernet Sauvignon as its primary component and uses French oak barrique ageing methods - was first released and the rest, as they say, is history. The "Super Tuscan" was born and the fame and reputation of Sassicaia has only continued to grow. Guidalberto is a true second wine and gives earlier drinking pleasure than the first wine, while Le Difese is the estate's entry level offering. All of these wines are in very short supply and sold on allocation only.

This family venture was established in 1999 by Fausto Albanese and his partner Adriana Galasso when they started to cultivate the Montepulciano vines planted in 1972 by Adriana's father, Rocco. They immediately converted the vineyard to organic viticulture and in 2004 they bought a further 8 hectares where they continued to plant Montepulciano, but also the native white varieties Pecorino and Trebbiano. Word of mouth of the quality of their wines spread quickly throughout Italy and in recent years they have received glowing reviews and awards from all the major Italian wine publications. Abruzzo is known for generous and approachable wines, but these wines have a complexity and elegance that is rare in the region

Pietradolce's wines come from 11 hectares of ancient vines at altitudes of 600-900 metres on the slopes of the Europe's most infamous volcano – Mount Etna. Michele Faro creates wines of great tension and precision from indigenous varieties Nerello Mascalese and Carricante. For those unfamiliar with the styles – the reds are broody and elegant and will appeal to lovers of Burgundy and the great wines of Northern Italy, Barolo & Barbaresco; the whites are vibrant and textural and while unique in character will appeal to lovers of Chablis & Riesling.

Spain

One of the family names most synonymous with quality wine in the world. At all levels, Torres produces consistently excellent wines and are mavericks when it comes to investment in education, wine science, and how climate change will influence the wine horizon. Year after year Torres is viewed as the world's most admired wine brand and with just cause. From their iconic Mas La Plana wine, which shone a spotlight on Spain internationally through to their estates in other parts of Spain, such as Celeste in Ribera del Duero, Torres possess a golden touch and craft delicious wines.

Jean Léon travelled the world searching for the perfect place to grow his vines, until he reached Catalonia. There he found the place he was seeking. The Jean Léon pago lies right at the heart of the Penedès region and was purchased in 1963 by grouping together several carefully selected pieces of land. The property consists in total of 150 hectares, the vineyards are situated on a slightly sloping, south-facing mountainside in the Penedès district, at a height of 280-310m above sea level, sheltered from the northern winds and possible frosts in winter and spring.

Founded in 1858 by Camilo Hurtado de Amézaga, Marqués de Riscal is one of the oldest wineries in Rioja. Its history is based on two fundamental values - tradition and innovation. These two concepts have allowed it to achieve exceptional levels of quality, making its wines something unique. Their Reserva is a Rioja classic that sets a benchmark for the entire region. Today, Marqués de Riscal continues to make history with its outstanding City of Wine, an ambitious project designed to connect the modern world with its rich heritage in winemaking.

FINDLATER & Co

These wines are created in the heartland of the Rioja Alta region in San Vicente de la Sonsierra. They marry tradition and modernity harmoniously. Bright, pure and focused while still using traditional techniques of élevage. There is a delightful richness of fruit across the range with plenty of grip and seriousness too - perfect food wines. Testimony to the millennia-long long history of winemaking in La Sonsierra are lagares hewn out of the rock near the vineyards. This history is no surprise given the microclimate here - protected by the Tolono mountain range to the north and the river Ebro to the south. La Sonsierra is also home to a huge amount of old bush vine Tempranillo which adds amazing depth and character to these wines.

El Páramo de Corcos is the most surprising and lesser-known region of Ribera. From ten thousand hectares of flat landscape, where only the bravest know how to work the land in extreme conditions throughout the year, they are the authentic wine Bards. Here the Tempranillo vines must survive extremely dry summers and long, severe winters. The result is a fresh elegant Crianza with smooth tannins. The white comes from Rueda and is an excellent expression of Verdejo, offering superb value for money.

The collection of wines ‘Proyecto Garnacha de España’ is a tribute to a variety that had until recently been under-rated due to its complicated viticulture and its difficult production. Garnacha has been rescued from obscurity thanks, in large part, to producers creating wines of purity, freshness and focus, often at high altitudes and from ancient bush vines. This has rejuvenated the appreciation for the wines of this incredible variety. Here are three wines of the same variety expressing their different terroirs.

Wine trends

There have been a number of trends in wine over the last few years, from the emergence of the ‘natural’ or low intervention scene, to the rise and rise of Rosé, however, here are the three key trends that we see as critical that should be represented and highlighted by all of our customers.

Grape Varieties

While it’s unlikely that we’ll see the death of the lust for Pinot Grigio and Sauvignon Blanc any time soon, it’s inspiring to see how successful varieties that are off the beaten track, such as Gruner Veltliner and Assyrtiko, can be. We have also seen the resurrection of ‘lost’ varieties that are being rediscovered. Masi have revived Oseleta to add grip and structure to their Veronese wines. The “Ancestral Varieties” programme from Familia Torres is bringing forgotten Catalan varieties to life. It is certain that we are an adventurous nation, and we demand that there is always something a little more adventurous to choose from.

No Alcohol

This is a trend that has emerged from the younger consumer. A large cohort of younger adults now no longer drink alcohol as a life choice and those that do are drinking less. This means that there is an opportunity for the wine trade to help them with this with great quality 0.0% options. As technology has improved so has the quality and now no wine list or wine shop should be without a non-alcoholic option on offer.

Sustainability

This is not just a trend in wine but features in all areas of consumers’ lives as they demand to know what impact their choices are making on the planet. We represent several pioneers in sustainability, and under our ‘Give Wine A Future’ programme we are committed to bringing you the information that you need to help you make better choices for your business and so that you can pass this onto your customers. I urge you to highlight these wines to your customers, whether this is in a wine list or on a shelf so that we can all give more power to this movement.

Portugal

Casa Santos Lima produces these fruit forward, soft wines from the area around Lisbon in Portugal. Made from indigenous varieties; Castelao is the main component of the Bons Ventos red and Arinto & Fernao Pires are the main components of the white. Confidencial is a blend of many varieties, and is ripe and round with fine dusty tannins. These are great entry level wines.

Germany

For over 200 years the Kuhn family have been at the forefront of viticulture & winemaking in Germany. The current generation of the family is led by Peter Jakob, his wife Angela and their son, Peter Bernhard. With a keen feeling of responsibility in continuing this long tradition in 2004 they moved their entire production to biodynamics. Their goal is to produce "soulful wine in the greatest possible harmony with nature." This is achieved with aplomb – the wines are a delight and are exemplars of those oft-used wine terms, 'minerality' and 'freshness'.

Despite having less than 2000 inhabitants Rust was bestowed the title of city by the Hungarian crown in the 1600's perhaps due to the fame of the local wines. Michael Wenzel is finely tuned to the history all around him on the Austro-Hungarian border. He grows Furmint with cuttings taken across the border by his grandfather during the communist period of Hungary. The wines are zippy and textured with a real purity from minimal intervention winemaking and low sulphur dioxide use.

Women in wine

Winemaking remains a profession that is, to a great extent, still dominated by men. Female winemakers have been a blind spot of the wine industry for a long time. However, in recent years, we've met and heard stories of astounding women producing breathtaking wines across the world.

The Findlater & Co portfolio is proud to be the home of female winemakers that are making waves in the wine industry.

Róisín Curley

Mayo native Róisín Curley is a winemaker and one of 414 Masters of Wine in the world. She also has an MSc in Viticulture and Oenology. Róisín helped in winemaking at such illustrious names as Chateau Latour in Bordeaux, where she worked specifically on their biodynamic project, before finding her true love of terroir expression in Burgundy. In 2015 she established her micro négociant-vinificateur business, Maison Róisín Curley. She operates out of a tiny cellar space in Beaune and currently crafts very small quantities of high-quality wines, preferably from organically grown fruit. Her wines have found a receptive audience in her home country and further afield in markets such as Canada and China.

Mireia Torres Maczassek

Mireia Torres Maczassek is a prominent figure in the wine industry, born in Barcelona in 1969, and is the fifth generation of the Torres family. She is the director of two prestigious wineries, Jean Leon and Torres Priorat, and has played a significant role in the family's winemaking projects. Mireia inherited her father's sense of responsibility and her mother's artistic and bohemian spirit, which has helped shape her creative outlook on life. She graduated with a degree in Chemical Engineering and studied Enology and Viticulture in France before joining the family business in 1999. Mireia is the director of Familia Torres's Knowledge and Innovation Department and the president of the Familia Torres Foundation. Her professional career has been dedicated to research in the field of winemaking and winegrowing. Mireia's passion for wine has been with her since childhood, and she continues to make a significant impact on the wine industry.

Laura Brunelli

When Gianni Brunelli passed away in 2008 his family winery and their restaurant “Osteria Le Logge” were entrusted to his wife, Laura. Laura is a native of the island of Sardinia and from the western province of Oristano famous for its flor-influenced Vernaccia wines.

If wines look like their owners then the wines of Gianni Brunelli perfectly show the character of Laura – pretty & kind, generous to newcomers and with an underlying power and strength that allows huge longevity.

Laura farms 2ha of land on the north of Montalcino “Le Chiuse de Sotto” and 4.5ha at “Podernovone” on the south of Montalcino at 500m of altitude. This land is farmed organically with over 400 hours of labour per hectare required annually to maintain. Laura does this with a small team while keeping the cult restaurant in Siena as one of the must visit restaurants in Tuscany.

Sue Hodder

Sue Hodder, winemaker at Wynns of Coonawarra, is one of the most respected winemaker’s in the Australian wine industry and a strong advocate and voice for Coonawarra and single region winemaking. Sue began her career as viticulturalist and she believes her early viticultural training – assessing vines, analysing mature fruit and tasting the finished wine – gave her an invaluable insight into the importance of the vineyard in quality winemaking. Sue joined Wynns as a senior winemaker in 1998. She brought valuable experience with vintages in other noted wine regions around the world and has judged extensively in regional, national and international wine shows.

“I’m proud of the responsibility I have for maintaining the quality of a range that represents Coonawarra as a region as much as they represent Wynns Coonawarra Estate..... It relates to being a custodian of a great winemaking tradition.” Sue has a had a long-term involvement with the Coonawarra Vignerons Association including four years as President and is currently on the Marketing and Promotions committee.

In 2010, Sue was one of 10 Australian Winemakers selected to represent Wine Australia in the Launch of the A+ programme at the Shanghai World Expo. Sue has proudly represented Wynns, Coonawarra and Australian wine around the world by telling the stories around their wines.

Myriam Ambuzer

Myriam Ambuzer, the winemaker of Lyrarakis Wines Estate since 2002, has played a huge role in securing Lyrarakis a place in the elite wineries of Greece. Myriam graduated from Athens University, Department of Oenology and Technology of Beverage, and accumulated a wealth of experience as an educator in oenology at the MBS College of Crete. Before joining Lyrarakis Wines Estate in 2002, Myriam worked with the famed Spanish winemaker Pepe Mendoza, who gave her a baptism of fire and taught her that winemaking is a passion-driven occupation and that harvesting is both an act of love and a battle for life.

Upon joining the Lyrarakis family as quality control manager of winemaking, her focus was directed towards representing the power of the Cretan terroir by producing wine using indigenous grape varieties. She helped the Lyrarakis family save two grapes from extinction, - . Plytó, a lively ancient white variety, and Dafni, that produces a white wine redolent of bay leaf. Myriam’s work in the cellar has facilitated the recognition of these classic wines beyond the shores of Crete and right into the glasses of worldwide consumers.

Her philosophy is entrenched in expressing authenticity in wine and achieving harmony without resorting to a recipe book, arguing that every grape and every wine needs to be worked on and created in its own special way, every year. “There are no standard recipes, and they might change according to the vintage,” Myriam says. “The wines all have an identifiable ‘trace’ of the varietal, which is coloured by the vintage’s particularities.” Vilana is Myriam Ambuzer’s signature wine and is fermented in the estate’s barrels.

Czech Republic

The roots of this small winery go back to the early 1960s when the first family vineyard was planted. Since then, they have come a long way, focusing on releasing high quality, biodynamic wines from small parcels of premium fruit after long and careful ageing in their cellar, located behind the vineyard. The region of Moravia is situated at the very limit of where grapes can be grown in Central Europe, in the south-eastern corner of the Czech Republic. The cool temperature in the region provides the wines with vivid brightness and freshness.

Greece

The Lyrarakis winery is situated in the heart of Heraklion on the beautiful island of Crete. In 2016 they celebrated their 50th anniversary. The winery balances innovation & tradition and has been at the forefront of bringing obscure local varieties back to life, in particular the wonderful Dafni. High altitude viticulture (400-550m) brings the signature vibrancy and freshness in these wines and winemaker Myriam Ambuzer uses a range of techniques to bring out the essential character of each varietal.

Lebanon

Established in 1930 by Gaston Hochar, Chateau Musar make outstanding wines in the beautiful historic Bekaa valley in Lebanon. The international success of the brand was due to the drive, passion & vision of Gaston's son Serge. The untimely passing of Serge in 2014 left a real void in the wine world, as he was one of the true legends of the industry. In recent years, Serge's sons, Gaston and Marc have been at the helm and continue to deliver these unique wines, with Chateau Musar red famous for its ageing potential.

Cono Sur Vineyards & Winery was founded in 1993, with the vision of producing expressive and innovative wines that convey the spirit of the New World. Right from the start, Cono Sur applied new ideas and technology to traditional winemaking methods. Pinot Noir is a grape where Cono Sur has developed a particular expertise. From the entry level wine up to the superb Ocio, these are Pinots from the cool-climate Casablanca and San Antonio Valleys. Pinot Noir is known as an expensive variety to produce, but these wines represent outstanding value at each level. Ocio has consistently scored 94 to 95 points in the Wine Advocate since the 2013 vintage.

The image of Santa Digna remains the cross reflects the combination of a stone cross with the Latin American Andean cross, in appreciation of the continent and the culture that welcomed the Torres family more than 30 years ago. The stone crosses standing on the borders of lands were called Santa Digna and they were used to mark boundaries and symbolized good luck and protection for those setting off for remote lands.

Torres was the first foreign company to establish holdings in Chile in 1979 and their foresight has meant that they have been able to keep pace with the growing demand for quality Chilean wine. The large temperature differences between day and night, the phylloxera-free soils and the usual Torres attention to detail, produce wines of superb quality. Miguel Torres Chile carry out environmentally friendly viticulture whenever possible using biological alternatives and avoiding the use of aggressive products.

Wine “misconceptions”

Wine gets better with age.

Most wines don't improve with age. Only the best wines, usually with a premium price tag, have the capacity to age and evolve. And then whether the aged wine is “better” really comes down to personal taste. If a person loves the primary fruit of a youthful wine they may not see an aged bottle as a better wine. Each person will have their preference for the sweet spot point in a good wine's evolution. As a wine ages it often gains in aromatic complexity, but may lose vitality and energy.

Some wines are “better” than others.

Like many things in wine – such as when to drink a wine (see above) – that depends on the person drinking the wine. While there are objective benchmarks of quality such as length and balance, beauty is in the eye of the beholder. We enjoy what we enjoy.

Serious wines are always sealed with a cork.

Many of the world's most famous wines are sealed with a cork but every closure has its good points and bad points and illustrious names such as Chateau Margaux regularly test different closures such as screwcap. To taste mature Australian wines which have been sealed under screwcap is a joy and they tend to show a slightly slower evolution than wines under cork.

In poor vintages the wines are poor.

Poor vintages are often labelled as such based on poor weather conditions during the season. Rigorous viticulture and particularly grape selection can still allow a winery to craft an excellent wine in a so-called poor vintage. It is also important to remember that every site is unique and while a region may have a poor vintage overall – there will always be microclimates within regions and there will always be exceptions to rules.

Sulphites cause headaches.

The only warning on all bottles of wine, sulphites are often blamed for causing headaches and hangovers. With fewer than 1% of the population allergic to sulphites they are an unlikely culprit. Dried fruit and even salad bars regularly contain much higher levels of sulphites than wine. Wine contains alcohol, which can dehydrate, and also histamines. Both of these are more likely to be at fault for headaches from wine.

Argentina

Masi has taken the oenological practices and winemaking techniques for which they are renowned in Italy's Veneto and adapted them to the natural environment and culture of Argentina. The result is an exciting range of wines blending Argentina's native Torrontes and Malbec grapes alongside traditional varieties from Masi's home in the Veneto. The techniques of appassimento (laying grapes out to dry) and double fermentation have been adapted here with great results, thanks to the favourable climate. "Passo Doble" is a play on words – the passionate Argentinian dance and the double fermentation method used in the wine's production both finding reference in the name.

R76780	● Andean Vineyards Reserve Malbec	12 x 75cl			€132.00	€11.00	C

Founded in 1892, Bodegas La Rosa has a long history of wine making in Argentina. Today the winery produces modern wines that have vibrant fruit expression and excellent balance. The Andean Vineyards wines come from high altitude vineyards in Mendoza where the vines benefit from warmth and excellent light during the daytime, and cool nights that maintain freshness and aromatic qualities. The Andean Vineyards Malbec sees no oak and has an attractive note of violet on the nose and lovely ripe fruit on the palate. Its big brother, the Reserve, is a selection of fruit that sees some time in oak. It is rich and mouth filling with intense fruit flavours. Both wines have a freshness on the finish that gives them great drinkability. Finally, the Aires Andinos wines offer superb value for money, proving that Chile is not the only country that can produce great value, well-made pouring wines.

Kanonkop Estate is often referred to as South Africa's closest equivalent to a French Premier Cru. The winery, located just outside Stellenbosch, is truly beautiful and a visit is recommended, as is a visit to the Art Gallery. The absolute commitment to quality and the production of the best quality wines is unrelenting. Their Estate Pinotage is rare proof that this grape is capable of being crafted into wines of complexity and elegance. Their Paul Sauer is a polished and stylish Bordeaux blend, that frequently garners high scores from critics. Sadly, we get only a small allocation of this wine.

Wynns is one of the original and iconic Australian producers. Since the first vineyards were planted by visionary Scottish pioneer John Riddoch in 1891, Wynns Coonawarra Estate has built a reputation as the Coonawarra region's pre-eminent wine producer. The wines today are made by two women, Sue Hodder who joined Wynns in 1998, assisted by Sarah Pidgeon. The two Estate wines offer outstanding value for money for such a premium wine region. The Black Label Cabernet Sauvignon, first made in 1954, is famously long-lived and is a benchmark wine. John Riddoch, the flagship wine is a definitive Coonawarra Cabernet Sauvignon and is made in small quantities only in the best years from the top estate fruit.

R61250	● Harbour Bridge Shiraz	6 x 75cl			€48.00	€8.00	SC

These two Blass wines, which are exclusive to the on-premise trade, offer superb value for money. The white is exactly what consumers expect from an entry-level Aussie Chardonnay, with excellent varietal character - ripe yellow fruits, a hint of vanilla and a rounded, creamy palate. The Shiraz too delivers the goods with a peppery, vanilla-flecked nose and a medium-bodied palate with lots of soft, ripe fruit. At these prices, these wines truly over-deliver.

The Rawsons Retreat wines have been a staple of Australian wines in the Irish market for over 30 years. They display the generous ripe fruit flavours so typical of Australian wines, but avoid the jaminess of so many wines at this price level, which makes them ideal food wines. The Private Release wines are on trade exclusives. They also produce very popular dealcoholised wines.

Miljenko "Mike" Grgich first gained international recognition at the celebrated "Judgement of Paris" in 1976. Then, in a now-historic blind tasting, a panel of eminent French judges swirled, sniffed, and sipped an array of the fabled white Burgundies of France and a small sampling of upstart Chardonnays from the Napa Valley. When their scores were tallied, the French judges were shocked; they had chosen the 1973 Chateau Montelena Chardonnay, crafted by Mike Grgich, as the finest white wine in the world. Today, the Grgich family remain committed to organic farming making distinctive wines of purity, fermented with indigenous yeasts, and arriving at quality, consistency and longevity.

Marimar Torres has been directing the activities at her estate in the Russian River/Green Valley of Sonoma County since 1986. Only 16 kilometres from the Pacific Ocean and 80 kilometres north of San Francisco, the site is influenced by the sea's cooling breezes and drifting fog. That is why Marimar Torres selected this privileged location to "export" the Torres family legacy of fine wines to California. The cool climate she selected is ideal for producing exquisite Pinot Noir and Chardonnay.

Beringer Vineyards holds the distinction of being the oldest continuously operating winery in the Napa Valley. It is also one of the very few wineries that survived the draconian prohibition of 1922, which lasted over a decade. The estate is also in the National Register for Historic Places as an historic district, a status it has held since 2001. With its perfect blend of modern technology and age-old traditions, Beringer Vineyards still produces memorable wines that continue to bring recognition to the company and all of Napa Valley.

Fortified Wines

Fortified

Fortified wines can be one of the best ways to maximise the margin of a wine list.

Fortified wines not only offer deliciousness and food pairing flexibility, but they also bring a stability and durability enviable in other wines, particularly the oxidative styles such as Amontillado and Oloroso Sherries and Tawny Ports.

Higher alcohol levels, and in some cases higher sugar levels, allow smaller pour measures which in turn allows more glasses and higher margins from a bottle.

The stability of fortified wines also means that there is little or no wastage as the wines can remain open, often for up to a month.

With a floor team actively promoting these wines by the glass, particularly with a food match of dessert or cheese, there is a big margin opportunity with fortified wines. Showing a suggested wine by-the-glass beside each dessert or cheese on a menu can lead to many impulse purchases, maximising the consumer spend.

And of course, there is also the wines themselves – the various styles of sherries and ports are really quite unique and can offer pairing opportunities that table wines often don't. Maybe that soup would be enhanced by a glass of Fino sherry? And we all know that blue cheese is going to be unbeatable with a good port!

The house of Graham was founded in 1820 and has earned an unmatched reputation as the leading producer of premium Port wines. The company has been owned by just two families in its entire history; originally founded by the Grahams, it was acquired by the Symington family in 1970. Today, five members of the family work in the company. The Symingtons are members of the exclusive Primum Familiae Vini, a grouping of eleven leading wine families in the world. Graham's Vintage Ports are always amongst the most highly rated wines when a vintage is declared.

The Dom Brial cooperative was established in 1923. Rooted in the identity of Dom Brial, natural sweet wines are the wealth of their region. The wines are made by natural in barrels with bottling several years before release. The wines have aromas of fruit notes such as dried apricot and yellow peach jam, mixed with vanilla and coconut notes. Coffee to tobacco, even nuts and soft spices also feature. The wines develop a lovely complexity with age, balanced with nice freshness.

Spirits

While Torres are most famous for their exceptional wines, there are parts of the world in which they are more renowned for their excellent brandies. Torres 10, probably the most recognised Spanish brandy around the world, is a classic solera-method Spanish brandy. Torres 20 is a stunning spirit, distilled from wines made of Parellada and Ugni Blanc grapes, aged initially in new oak and then transferred to old wood for long ageing. The packaging is also very beautiful.
