THE FINDLATER STORY

It was over 200 years ago that Alexander Findlater founded 'Alex Findlater' on Burgh Quay in Dublin selling Irish and Scotch Whiskey, and soon grew his business to include wine, coffee, and tea.

Alexander was a successful businessman, expanding his interests across Dublin and further afield to include outlets in the UK. He even opened a brewery in North Dublin in 1852 after success in exporting Porter to America.

Following Alexander's death in 1873, his nephew, John, took the reins and opened his eponymous food and wine stores in the main residential districts of Dublin, along with a headquarters in Upper O'Connell Street.

The business continued, managed by three generations of the family, and finally trading as Findlater Wine Merchants from the old, bonded vaults under the Harcourt Street Railway Station.

In 2001, the business was purchased by Cantrell & Cochrane, and its portfolio became part of Findlater Grants (incorporating Grants of Ireland Ltd.), before merging with Woodford Bourne in 2009 to create the Findlater Wine & Spirit Group, and was rebranded in 2016 as Findlater & Co.

Now in 2025, we are the leading wine supplier to the trade with over 1,000 wines from every corner of the world in our exclusive portfolio, which means that we always have the exceptional choice for every wine purchasing moment.

INTRO

2025 is a landmark year in Findlater & Co as we make a statement on sustainability

Our new portfolio brings to life a journey that we began in 2021 when we created our 'Give Wine a Future' sustainability pillar. This year we have gone the extra mile by taking the decision to only work with a collection of producers who go above and beyond in their efforts to be sustainable, across the entirety of their business. They lead by example when it comes to climate action, and we are proud to represent them and bring their wines to you. This means that by choosing any wine from Findlater & Co you are making a sustainable choice for your business.

We believe that we are the only wine distribution company in Ireland and possibly worldwide that has shown this level of commitment to sustainability.

As well as leading the industry in sustainability, in this, our latest portfolio I am pleased that the Findlater & Co team has been busy developing and tending to the range to bring new wines and new producers to the Irish market ensuring that you, our customers can continue to be at the forefront of consumer trends.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your custom. Our team of wine experts are available across the country to support your business whether you are an existing customer or one of the many new customers that know and trust Findlater & Co.

Richard Moriarty
Wine Director

Give Wine a Future

The Give Wine a Future movement was born in 2021 at Findlater and Co from the realisation that there is an urgent need for Ireland's wine industry to take action and for us to lead by example on climate change.

There have been increasingly devastating climate-related events in Europe over recent years, including wildfires, extensive flooding, heatwaves, and drought. We are facing a tipping point, and without a commitment to climate action from across industry and society at large, this crisis will become a catastrophe.

Climate action means a commitment to a holistic model of sustainable business, and for wine it goes beyond organic and biodynamic farming. In fact, the biggest carbon footprint for wine producers is everything outside of the vineyard - soil management, water management, energy use, packaging, and transport.

Big businesses have the power to drive change. Our aim is to educate and inform the wine trade, to help you to make informed choices and educate the consumer in turn. By working together, as individuals and as corporate entities, we can bring about real and lasting change and mitigate against the worst effects of climate change.

In 2025 we have taken the decision to only work with a collection of producers who go above and beyond in their efforts to be sustainable, across the entirety of their business. They lead by example when it comes to climate action, and we are proud to represent them and bring their wines to you. This means that by choosing any wine from Findlater & Co you are making a sustainable choice for your business.

Thank you!

GLOSSARY OF TERMS AND REFERENCES

All of the wines in this portfolio booklet are sustainable, in other words, the producers are going above and beyond in their efforts to promote biodiversity, avoid artificial chemicals or fertilisers in the vineyards, conserve and recycle water, reduce energy consumption and seek renewable alternatives, reduce packaging, reduce average bottle weight, pay fair prices for grapes, implement long-term contracts for workers and support their local community and economy.

- BCORP

B Corp Certification is a designation that a business is meeting high standards of verified performance, accountability, and transparency on factors from employee benefits and charitable giving to supply chain practices and input materials. In order to achieve certification, a company must demonstrate high social and environmental performance by achieving a B Impact Assessment score of 80 or above and passing the risk review. Multinational corporations must also meet baseline requirement standards and make a legal commitment by changing their corporate governance structure to be accountable to all stakeholders, not just shareholders, and achieve benefit corporation status if available in their jurisdiction. They also must exhibit transparency by allowing information about their performance measured against B Lab's standards to be publicly available on their B Corp profile on B Lab's website.

- Biodynamic certification (B)

This may also be referred to as "Demeter certified", the accreditation body for biodynamic farming, not just wine. Biodynamic wine means vineyards are farmed organically and biodynamic practices, following lunar cycles and treating the vineyards with natural "biodynamic" preparations, also apply. It's generally low intervention in the winery – natural yeast fermentation, no new oak and minimal SO2 added.

- Biodynamic practices (BV)

This refers to producers who practice organic and biodynamic farming, but may not adhere to all of the biodynamic treatments or lunar phases, therefore opt out of certification.

- Cover crop

A cover crop is a plant that is used primarily to slow erosion, improve soil health, enhance water availability, smother weeds, help control pests and diseases, increase biodiversity and bring a host of other benefits. In vineyards, it refers to the growth between the rows of vines, that are left rather than being tilled.

- Green Washing

A term used to describe businesses or individuals who market themselves as sustainable or environmentally-friendly in their practices and processes, but their green credentials would not stand up to scrutiny if examined.

- Herbicide free

Herbicides are essentially chemical weed killers, so if a producer is herbicide-free, it means that they manage grass and weed growth through ploughing and tilling. Some vine-growers also use sheep and other animals to manage grass growth.

- HVE certification (HVE)

HVE "Haute Valeur Environnementale" is an accreditation body in France, that awards farmers and growers who take a measured approach from wine cultivation to bottling. It has three levels of accreditation: Level 1 indicates a "basic knowledge" of sustainable practices; Level 2 certification means growers must adhere to 16 environmental standards and Level 3 is the highest award measuring things like soil health, plant health, no artificial herbicides or pesticides, water management and promotion of biodiversity.

- Lightweight Glass

Bottle weight has come under the spotlight in the last 10 years or so, with writers like Jancis Robinson including it, and commenting on it, in her tasting notes. There has been an implicit understanding that a heavier bottle implies a better wine, which is not the case and glass production and glass recycling are major contributors to the carbon footprint of the wine industry.

- Low intervention winemaking

Although not legally defined, low intervention winemaking generally means a hands-off approach in the vineyard and the winery – i.e. native yeasts, less new oak, light-or-no fining, no filtration etc

- Lutte Raisonnée

Translating as “logical battle” this term refers to wine makers who manage vineyards sustainably, avoiding chemical treatments. The philosophy is to only intervene with minimal sprays or treatments if the crop is threatened by anomalous weather or climatic events.

- Minimal intervention winemaking

Although not legally defined, this term usually means that there is as little interference with the winemaking as possible, for example, natural yeast fermentation, only old oak or no oak used for maturation, minimal battonage, little or no punching down, light pressing, lower SO₂ levels.

- Natural/wild yeast fermentation

This means that the grapes are fermented using the native yeasts from the vineyard, that are found on the skins of the grape. No cultured or artificial yeasts used.

- Natural wine (N)

A movement that has developed a passionate following in recent years, but it continues to have a woolly legal framework. Natural wine makers generally adhere to a charter of vine growing and wine making that asserts to make wine as true to its natural and traditional expression as possible. In its truest and authentic form, a “natural” wine is made from organic and/or biodynamic grapes, usually indigenous to the region, fermented with native yeasts and winemaking is completed with as little intervention at the winery as possible. Minimal or zero sulphur is added to the wines.

- No artificial fertilisers

No artificial nitrogen or chemical fertilisers applied to vineyards – green manure and other natural fertilisers used instead.

- Pesticide free

No artificial or chemical treatments for pests in the vineyards – pheromone confusion or a natural pest control philosophy applies instead.

- Plastic free (PF)

Plastic free means no plastic is used on the bottle or the packaging of a wine.

- Regenerative Agriculture

A system of farming principles and practices that seeks to rehabilitate and enhance the entire ecosystem of a farm by placing a heavy premium on soil health with attention also paid to water management, fertiliser use, and more. The practice also reduces carbon dioxide levels by taking CO₂ from the atmosphere and storing it in the soil. (www.climaterealityproject.org)

- Sustainable (S)

This is a broad, unregulated term, which if applied with integrity means that a producer takes a holistic view and works towards sustainability in all aspects of production, i.e. organic practices in the vineyard, encouraging biodiversity, planting hedges, no artificial chemicals, resource management (water use and energy efficiency), reviewing alternative packaging solutions. This term is the one most vulnerable to “green washing”, as it is not legally defined. There are varying programmes around the world that try to certify sustainable practices.

- Organic Certification (O)

A wine can be defined “Organic” when it is produced according to the Regulation of the European Commission (EC) no. 203/2012, that is: (in the vineyard) produced from “organic” grapes and permitted treatments; (in the cellar) produced using only products and processes authorised by the regulation. In February 2012, new EU rules were agreed that identified oenological techniques and substances to be authorised for organic wine, including a maximum sulphite content (set at 100 mg per litre for red wine and 150 mg/L for white/rosé). Label will say “organic wine” and there will be a green leaf logo.

- Organic Practices / Organically Grown Grapes (OV)

This refers to a producer, who has opted not to apply for organic certification but manages the vineyards without use of artificial pesticides or herbicides. Some producers like to have the option to spray the vines if a severe weather event risks the crop, others claim that their viticultural standards go above and beyond those required by the accreditation body. The label may say “made from organic grapes”, but no logo is permitted.

- Vegan (V) (certified) or Vegan Friendly (VF) (not certified)

If a wine is vegan friendly, it means that the producer has not used any animal products in the winemaking process like fining, where fish product or egg whites may be used.

CHAMPAGNE

BOLLINGER

Bollinger is one of the last family-owned houses in Champagne and is a guardian of tradition, using methods such as barrel fermentation that are rare in Champagne today. Bollinger Special Cuvée is a blend composed mostly of reserve wines and 60% Pinot Noir, yielding a precise combination of balance and body. Quality is maintained year after year thanks to a precious collection of reserve wines from the Grand and Premier Cru vineyards, matured slowly in magnums for between five and ten years. Indeed, Pinot Noir is at the heart of everything that Bollinger does, and in recent years the house has released a number of new wines based purely on the grape, most notably the PN series of wines that with each release focuses on one excellent terroir for Pinot Noir. It was Lily Bollinger who introduced the Recently Disgorged (R.D.) cuvée to the world. With wines such as the PN series, one feels that Lily would be happy to see the continuation of traditional Champagne production methods accompanied by exciting innovation in cuvées.

AYALA

The unique, artisan Champagne house of Ayala can trace its history back to 1860. Ayala is considered a pioneer in the production of low dosage champagnes and introduced its Zero Dosage Brut Nature in 2005. This style shows the purity of Ayala: round, soft, fresh, well balanced with delicate fruit notes and elegant acidity. The star of the blend at AYALA is Chardonnay. The Brut Majeur is the result of the blending of a particular harvest with quality reserve wines. The low dosage reveals the delicate aromas and bouquet. The Rosé will charm you with its finesse and wonderful elegance with more than 50% of Chardonnay in the blend. The limited availability Vintage Blanc de Blancs is an exceptional wine that never fails to impress, and frequently out-scores more expensive wines in blind tastings.

LANSON

Lanson is one of the historic houses of Champagne with a rich history of crafting exquisite cuvees. The house style is known for its mouth-watering crispness, making it the perfect aperitif style. Since 1760, the house of Lanson has remained family owned. Faithful to its heritage, Lanson Champagnes have always been made in the original way, offering an exceptional development of flavours while preserving the natural purity of the fruit. This historical commitment makes Lanson wines fresh, crisp and elegant with a longer ageing potential. A truly unique style.

Crafted with care by Héréd Lanson, Winemaker at Champagne Lanson.

BOLNEY WINE ESTATE

Established in 1972, by Janet and Rodney Pratt, Bolney Wine Estate in West Sussex was one of the first English wine estates. Janet and Rodney were pioneers. Guided by nature – the mild climate and the sandstone soil – they discovered the best varieties of grapes to grow in their eco-system. The team now produce award-winning still and sparkling wines from our famous Pinot Noir and Pinot Gris to their classic sparkling Bolney Bubbly and Classic Cuvée.

TRÉNEL

This delicious Crémant de Bourgogne is made with a blend of Burgundian grapes - Chardonnay, Pinot Noir, Gamay and Aligoté - grown on clay-limestone soils in the Côte Chalonnaise. Bottle fermented in the traditional method, the wine is aged for up to 24 months on its lees before being disgorged. There is no dosage, so technically the wine is Brut Nature, but it is a very approachable, moreish wine.

CANEVEL

From the slopes of Valdobbiadene, the best terroir for Prosecco, comes artisanal Prosecco. Canevel in local dialect means 'small cellar' and it was set up in 1979 to make exactly that - small parcel Prosecco. VARDON KENNETT

The estate is named after Daniel Vardon Kennet, a young man from the Channel Island of Guernsey, who fell in love and married into the Spanish wine family of de Ferrer. And the wine - well that is something very special. Cuvée Esplendor is a blend of Pinot Noir, Chardonnay and Xarel-lo (55%/40%/5%) that is made in the Champagne method and is aged on the lees for over 4 years. The fruit comes from selected plots at 550m altitude in the Alt Penedes. It shows autolytic aromas of brioche and toasted bread with a touch of terroir-imparted minerality. This is a truly impressive wine.

FRANCE / CHABLIS

J MOREAU & FILS

Located in the heart of the Chablis region, J Moreau & Fils is nestled among the rolling, vineyard covered hills for which the region is famous. Founded in 1814, J. Moreau et Fils is a specialist in unoaked Chablis styles and has nearly two centuries of experience behind it and a very strong vision for the future. The erudite and talented Lucie Depuydt is in charge of the winemaking (see more on Lucie in our women in Wine section of this booklet). Lucie has a superb knowledge of the soils and terroir of Chablis, and ensures the best grapes are chosen for the style that Moreau wishes to produce. She has made changes in the winery that allow the wines to best express their sense of place. We are now seeing a revitalization of the Moreau wines styles, characterised by a lively minerality and a perfect balance between terroir, fruit, structure and texture, making the wines accessible in their youth while at the same time possessing a great ageing potential.

ROISIN CURLEY

Mayo native Róisín Curley is a winemaker and one of 420 Masters of Wine in the world. She also has an MSc in Viticulture and Oenology. Róisín trained in winemaking at such illustrious names as Chateau Latour in Bordeaux, where she worked specifically on their biodynamic project, before finding her true love of terroir expression in Burgundy. In 2015 she established her micro négociant-vinificateur business, Maison Róisín Curley. She operates out of a tiny cellar space in Beaune and currently crafts very small quantities of high-quality wines, preferably from organically grown fruit. Her wines have found a receptive audience in her home country and further afield in markets such as Canada and China.

JEAN CLAUDE BOISSET

Bearing the name of the founder of the Boisset group, a major force in Burgundy, this label is the flagship of the group. Made in a state-of-the-art winery built between 2014 and 2018, winemaker Grégory Patriat crafts wines of superb balance and finesse. Winemaking techniques are very sympathetic to modern, non-interventionist philosophies and organics/biodynamics are used where possible. Grégory employs an innovative technique of bio-protection to ferment without sulphur and to produce wines he feels have more purity, freshness and terroir expression than how the wines were produced in the past. A favourite wine of ours is the Monthélie Blanc - a wine for people who love Meursault but not its price!

MÂCONNAIS

OLIVIER MERLIN

Olivier and his wife Corinne took over their estate, then called Vieux Saint Sorlin, in 1987 when it was very run down. They now run it with their two sons and their partners. Much of the work is by hand and Olivier says their methods are probably not hugely different to how wine was made two hundred years ago. While not certified organic, Olivier uses organic practices. The wines are aged a long time on the lees - often twelve months on the gross lees in barrel and then after racking a further 6 months on fine lees. This gives the wine great protection against oxidation and means that Olivier need only use very small amounts of SO2. These are Mâconnais wines of real depth that truly reflect their terroirs.

CHÂTEAU DES QUARTS

In 2011, upon learning that this beautiful Mâconnais property was for sale, Olivier Merlin proposed to Dominique Lafon that they jointly purchase it, which they did in 2012. Dominique immediately realised the potential of the terroir and both men realised that the 'Clos des Quarts' had the potential to be one of the shining beacons of Pouilly-Fuissé. Clos des Quarts is located in the village of Chaintré, the southernmost of the Pouilly-Fuissé appellation, and its oldest vines were planted in 1917. Today the total surface area of the Clos des Quarts is 2.65 hectares. Given the reputation of the two owners, and the exceptional site, the wines of Château des Quarts offer exceptional value in a time when Burgundy seems out of reach for so many people.

MÂCONNAIS AND BEAUJOLAIS

TRÉNEL

Founded in 1928 by Henri Claudius Trénel, this house produces excellent wines from Mâconnais and Beaujolais and a beautiful Crémant de Bourgogne (as well as fruit liqueurs, which are still a major part of their business). We had been in contact for a number of years and after an excellent tasting with them in early 2022, we decided the time was right to add them to our portfolio. The wines offer genuine value, especially from a region undergoing serious price inflation. We have started with a small range of wines but see ourselves adding more wines over time - if we can get stock, as the wines are in high demand!

BORDEAUX

BORDEAUX VINEAM

New to our portfolio this year, Bordeaux Vineam has a vision to be the most important producer of organic and biodynamic wines in Bordeaux. They own six estates and we have started with wines from three of them. All wines offer excellent value as well as being either organically or biodynamically certified. The wine from Château Moulin a Vent in the tiny Moulis AOP is an organic wine with a lovely ripe, cedarwood palate and not in any way overblown, as so many Bordeaux wines are these days. The biodynamically certified Sauternes from Château Grillon has the classic botrytis flavours one expects but a freshness and elegance that makes it very moreish. These wines are a very welcome new addition to our range.

CHÂTEAU MEAUME

Set in beautiful countryside, 15 kms from the famous wine districts of Saint-Emilion and Pomerol, Château Méaume shows how tradition and modern technology can combine in the making of a magnificent wine. Mark and Sandra Johnson-Hill, are the second generation making wines here, and they have modernised the winemaking. The quality of the wine continues to improve from year to year. The wine is made 80% from Merlot with equal balance of Cabernet Sauvignon and Cabernet Franc.

CHÂTEAU MAGNOL

Château Magnol is a Cru Bourgeois situated in the Haut-Médoc. It has been a firm favourite on the Irish market for many years. The vineyard is planted with roughly equal amounts of Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot, with Cabernet Franc and Petit Verdot playing a supporting role. The style of the wines is always reassuringly plush and rich, with soft tannins. The property today is owned by the historic Bordeaux firm of Barton & Guestier.

BORDEAUX COMMUNES AND PETITS CHÂTEAUX

The communes of St Estephe, Pauillac, St. Julien and Margaux on the left bank and St Emilion and Pomerol on the right bank are some of the most famous wine regions in the wine world. Here we offer some excellent examples from these terroirs. We consider the 2014 Chateau German Marbuzet from Saint Estephe and 2014 Chateau d'Arman Saint Emilion Grand Cru Classé to offer superb value for mature wines that are drinking wonderfully now. The 2018 Chateau de Camensac is a rich, complex and delicious Haut-Medoc (5th Growth). We also offer some excellent wines from less famous names. Chateau Lagrange from Lussac-Saint-Emilion is a perennial best-seller in our Bordeaux range, while Champs de Fleuret is a Bordeaux Supérieur that offers outstanding value. Chateau Courbian Médoc is also terrific value.

BARTON & GUESTIER

The company's founder, Thomas Barton left his native Ireland in the beginning of the 18th century and emigrated to Bordeaux when he was just 30 years old. A true adventurer he founded his wine shipping company in 1725. In 1802 Hugh Barton his grandson and successor teamed up with Daniel Guestier, a French trader to create Barton & Guestier which is today the oldest wine merchant established in Bordeaux. With over three centuries of experience in the wine business Barton & Guestier is the French brand name known to millions of consumers worldwide.

COMBEL LA SERRE

Sophie and Julien Ilbert grow their vines on a limestone plot 300 metres in altitude along the Lot River. Julien was brought up in agriculture with the family selling grapes to the local co-op, until Julien took over fully in 2005, when Chateau Combel la Serre was born. It achieved full Ecocert status in 2013, a personal victory for Julien given his grandfather's struggle with illness linked to a lifetime of spraying in the vineyards. This is a perfumed wine of finesse and style.

ALSACE

HUGEL

The Hugel family are faithfully implementing the major principles they inherited from their ancestors and are driven to make Hugel and Alsace wine the great white wines of the 21st century. Hugel wines have become very popular with Irish consumers and wine lovers worldwide, due in no small part to their wonderful versatility with modern food dishes. They are the most flexible of wines in terms of food pairings: cheese, fish, lamb, Indian, Asian, fusion and of course more traditional foods are all enhanced by these wonderful wines. Hugel wines represent real value for money, in particular Hugel Gentil. Hugel Gentil is the only Hugel wine that is a blend of several varieties and the perfect introduction to Alsace wines, suited to many occasions. This wine revives an ancient Alsace tradition where wines assembled from noble grape varieties were called 'Gentil'. Gentil 'Hugel' allies the suave, spicy flavour of Gewurztraminer, the body of Pinot Gris, the finesse of Riesling, the grapiness of Muscat and the refreshing character of Sylvaner.

DOMAINE MOREUX-CORTY

The sons of Patrice Moreux, Arnaud and Julien, cultivate 35 hectares of vines at Pouilly-sur-Loire. They are the sole owners of the parcel of land known as “La Loge aux Moines”, a superbly situated historic site in the Pouilly Fumé region where vines were first planted in the 11th century. The wine that bears this name shows the quality of this south-facing vineyard where the soil is pure Kimmeridgian marl. It has great depth of flavour and yet has a finesse that belies the richness of the wine. Their regular cuvee of Pouilly Fumé is also excellent - a blend of three different terroirs of the region, partly fermented in concrete vats, which Arnaud believes adds an extra dimension to the wine.

Roger Champault has slowly grown his estate from just two hectares when he took over it to its current size of twenty hectares. Now assisted by the next generation, his two sons Laurent and Claude, they produce wines that reflect the terroir of Sancerre, yet remain modern with great purity of fruit. They were very proud to see Les Pierris poured at the wedding of the Princess of Sweden back in 2010. The wine has aromas of white peach and citrus fruits with a lively freshness and minerality on the palate.

DOMAINE JEAN-MAX ROGER

The Roger family have been vigneron in the area since the seventeenth century. However, it was not until the early 1970s, when Jean-Max Roger took over 4 hectares from his parents that the estate really started to take off. In 2004 he was joined by two of his sons, Etienne and Thibault. Today they farm 34 hectares, 28 ha in Sancerre and 6 ha in Menetou Salon, across more than 40 different plots taking in all the significant soil types of the region, including the stony clay soils, the kimmeridgian clay, and the classic flint.

Domaine Sinson is run by brothers Hubert and Olivier. Their Touraine Sauvignon is vibrant, ripe and dangerously drinkable! New this year for us is their Valençay Blanc. There are just 25 producers making wine in this tiny appellation. The wine itself is an unlikely blend of Sauvignon and Chardonnay that sounds like it shouldn't work, but boy does it! Planted on silex soils the wine has a really pronounced flinty character and delivers a lot of personality for a very modest price.

MICHEL CHAPOUTIER

The House of Chapoutier has a long and proud family tradition dating back to 1808. Today, seven generations later, Michel Chapoutier carries on this tradition using biodynamic winemaking techniques for his most famous wines (one of the first in France to do so) and to make outstanding wines at all levels. Michel Chapoutier's often daring combination of old and new techniques and his creative solutions to old problems has transformed winemaking in the region and brought many accolades, including much praise from Robert Parker. He has the biggest holding in Hermitage and is also the largest biodynamic producer in France. Chapoutier's commitment to biodynamism is unflinching. The terroir is a living organism and must be respected and reflected through flavours unique to each parcel and vintage rather than strive for a common style. Chapoutier is also recognized by the use of Braille on the labels. Maurice Monier de la Sizeranne, owner of the first plot of the Hermitage la Sizeranne - one of Chapoutier's signature wines - is also the inventor of the first version of abbreviated Braille.

MARIUS BY MICHEL CHAPOUTIER

Marius, Michel Chapoutier's great-grandfather, who put the Chapoutier name firmly on the Rhône Valley map in the early 20th century, always said 'A good wine is one that beckons us to take another sip.' These wines, named in his honour, represent great value from the south of France. They are fruity, balanced and very moreish!

DOMAINE FONT-MARS

The ancestors of Jean Baptiste de Clock have been making wines since the late 17th century, at first in Bordeaux but since 1864 at the Chateau Font-Mars in Mèze on the Mediterranean coast south-west of Montpellier. Here he produces a delicious wine from the local Piquepoul grape. With flavours of tropical fruits and a herbal tinge, the wine has plenty of weight, a rounded texture and a marked freshness that makes it the perfect match for shellfish and seafood.

PROVENCE

MIRABEAU

In 2008 Stephen and Jenny Cronk took the plunge required to kickstart their journey of becoming winemakers, when Stephen turned down a corporate promotion in London and asked instead for redundancy. They moved to Provence and in 2011 launched their first wine, the 2010 Mirabeau Classic. The wine was very well received, and they have never looked back. Today the range has a number of rose wines including a sparkler, and also features a wonderful pink gin. The wines have won many medals and accolades. In 2022 Stephen was instrumental in setting up the Regenerative Viticulture Foundation, which aims to promote a method of farming that will regenerate soils, restore biodiversity and, crucially, sequester more carbon. Mirabeau recently attained the gold standard of sustainability, B Corps certification.

WOMEN IN WINE

Winemaking remains a profession that is, to a great extent, still dominated by men. Female winemakers have been a blind spot of the wine industry for a long time. However, in recent years, we've met and heard stories of astounding women producing breathtaking wines across the world.

The Findlater & Co portfolio is proud to be the home of female winemakers that are making waves in the wine industry.

LAURA BRUNELLI

When Gianni Brunelli passed away in 2008 his family winery and their restaurant "Osteria Le Logge" were entrusted to his wife, Laura. Laura is a native of the island of Sardinia and from the western province of Oristano famous for its flor-influenced Vernaccia wines.

If wines look like their owners then the wines of Gianni Brunelli perfectly show the character of Laura – pretty & kind, generous to newcomers and with an underlying power and strength that allows huge longevity.

Laura farms 2ha of land on the north of Montalcino "Le Chiuse de Sotto" and 4.5ha at "Podernovone" on the south of Montalcino at 500m of altitude. This land is farmed organically with over 400 hours of labour per hectare required annually to maintain. Laura does this with a small team while keeping the cult restaurant in Siena as one of the must visit restaurants in Tuscany.

MYRIAM AMBUZER

Myriam Ambuzer, the winemaker of Lyrarakis Wines Estate since 2002, has played a huge role in securing Lyrarakis a place in the elite wineries of Greece. Myriam graduated from Athens University, Department of Oenology and Technology of Beverage, and accumulated a wealth of experience as an educator in oenology at the MBS College of Crete. Before joining Lyrarakis Wines Estate in 2002, Myriam worked with the famed Spanish winemaker Pepe Mendoza, who gave her a baptism of fire and taught her that winemaking is a passion-driven occupation and that harvesting is both an act of love and a battle for life.

Upon joining the Lyrarakis family as quality control manager of winemaking, her focus was directed towards representing the power of the Cretan terroir by producing wine using indigenous grape varieties. She helped the Lyrarakis family save two grapes from extinction, - . Plytó, a lively ancient white variety, and Dafni, that produces a white wine redolent of bay leaf. Myriam's work in the cellar has facilitated the recognition of these classic wines beyond the shores of Crete and right into the glasses of worldwide consumers.

Her philosophy is entrenched in expressing authenticity in wine and achieving harmony without resorting to a recipe book, arguing that every grape and every wine needs to be worked on and created in its own special way, every year. "There are no standard recipes, and they might change according to the vintage," Myriam says. "The wines all have an identifiable 'trace' of the varietal, which is coloured by the vintage's particularities." Vilana is Myriam Ambuzer's signature wine and is fermented in the estate's barrels.

RÓISÍN CURLEY

Mayo native Róisín Curley is a winemaker and one of 421 Masters of Wine in the world. She also has an MSc in Viticulture and Oenology. Róisín trained in winemaking at such illustrious names as Chateau Latour in Bordeaux, where she worked specifically on their biodynamic project, before finding her true love of terroir expression in Burgundy.

In 2015 she established her micro négociant-vinificateur business, Maison Róisín Curley. She operates out of a tiny cellar space in Beaune and currently crafts very small quantities of high-quality wines, preferably from organically grown fruit. Her wines have found a receptive audience in her home country and further afield in markets such as Canada and China.

MIREIA TORRES MACZASSEK

Mireia Torres Maczassek is a prominent figure in the wine industry, born in Barcelona in 1969, and is the fifth generation of the Torres family. She is the director of two prestigious wineries, Jean Leon and Torres Priorat, and has played a significant role in the family's winemaking projects.

Mireia inherited her father's sense of responsibility and her mother's artistic and bohemian spirit, which has helped shape her creative outlook on life. She graduated with a degree in Chemical Engineering and studied Enology and Viticulture in France before joining the family business in 1999. Mireia is the director of Familia Torres's Knowledge and Innovation Department and the president of the Familia Torres Foundation.

Her professional career has been dedicated to research in the field of winemaking and winegrowing. Mireia's passion for wine has been with her since childhood, and she continues to make a significant impact on the wine industry.

SUE HODDER

Sue Hodder, winemaker at Wynns of Coonawarra, is one of the most respected winemakers in the Australian wine industry and a strong advocate and voice for Coonawarra and single region winemaking. Sue began her career as viticulturalist and she believes her early viticultural training – assessing vines, analysing mature fruit and tasting the finished wine – gave her an invaluable insight into the importance of the vineyard in quality winemaking. Sue joined Wynns as a senior winemaker in 1998. She brought valuable experience with vintages in other noted wine regions around the world and has judged extensively in regional, national and international wine shows.

"I'm proud of the responsibility I have for maintaining the quality of a range that represents Coonawarra as a region as much as they represent Wynns Coonawarra Estate.... It relates to being a custodian of a great winemaking tradition." Sue has had a long-term involvement with the Coonawarra Vignerons Association including four years as President and is currently on the Marketing and Promotions committee.

In 2010, Sue was one of 10 Australian Winemakers selected to represent Wine Australia in the Launch of the A+ programme at the Shanghai World Expo. Sue has proudly represented Wynns, Coonawarra and Australian wine around the world by telling the stories around their wines.

VENETO

SEREGO ALIGHIERI

For over six centuries the Serego Alighieri estate has been an historic reference point for Verona's winemaking and agricultural traditions. It was in 1353 that Pietro, son of poet Dante Alighieri, purchased land and a villa in the hills of Valpolicella, and the estate is still the property of the descendents of the author of the Divine Comedy. These days the wines of the estate are made and marketed by MASI, whose Boscaini family bring their years of experience and innovation to bear.

MASI

If any name can be synonymous with a wine region and its winemaking it must be Masi. The history of Masi is the history of its vineyards: its name derives from “Vaio dei Masi”, meaning “little valley of the Masi” in the Valpolicella Classico zone of Negrar, which was the first vineyard acquired by the Boscaini family, owners of Masi, at the end of the 18th century. Masi produces premium wines which are modern in style but deeply rooted in tradition, using mainly grapes indigenous to the Veneto and utilising time-honoured techniques such as ‘appassimento’, resulting in wines full of character. Sandro Boscaini is the sixth generation of the family running Masi and is the current company president. He is widely regarded as the de facto authority on winemaking in the Veneto due to his decades of visionary innovation, experimentation and development in the field. Such an outlook resulted in the first ‘Ripasso’ wine, Campofiorin, as well as adapting similar techniques to create other unique wines such as Masianco and the rest of the ‘Super Venetian’ family for which Masi is internationally famous.

TENUTA DI CARLEONE

Sean O'Callaghan is the man behind these wonderful expressions of Sangiovese. Sean generally prefers concrete tanks for both fermenting and maturing his wines, although he does sometimes use very large old barrels. This choice gives the wines vibrancy and a unique personality amongst the wines of Chianti. Sean is a minimal interventionist and these wines have a very pure expression of Sangiovese. The Chianti Classico, made with Radda fruit, is an absolute gem, while Il Guercio comes from an old, high altitude vineyard just outside the hamlet of Lamole (650m), and undergoes an extended maceration of 4 months in concrete, producing a wonderfully elegant wine. Sean constantly experiments with this wine and uses lessons learned on his other wines. Antonio Galloni of Vinous has written that "Sean O'Callaghan routinely turns out compelling, engaging wines that challenge perceptions of what Chianti Classico is and what it can be. Stem inclusion, long macerations and aging in neutral vessels are some of the choices that inform wines of transparency and class. Readers who want to see what the new generation is about in Chianti Classico will want to check out Carleone". We couldn't agree more!

ORNELLAIA

Since its foundation in 1981, Ornellaia has become one of the iconic wine estates of Italy. Their Bordeaux-blend wines, that are the norm for Bolgheri where Sangiovese does not shine, each year garner high scores from the international press. The Frescobaldi family, with the help of inspirational CEO Giovanni Geddes and the technical leadership of Axel Heinz, brought the reputation of the estate to unparalleled heights. Giovanni, a sprightly 78 year old, has finally decided he should slow down and Axel Heinz and winemaker Olga Fusari have moved on. So there is a new team from 2024 at Ornellaia. We don't doubt that they will take the estate to the next level.

TENUTA SAN GUIDO

The Tenuta San Guido Estate in Bolgheri is the home of the highly sought-after Sassicaia. It was the Marchese Mario Incisa della Rochetta, father of Niccolo, the present owner of the Estate, who pioneered the introduction of non-native vines into the Italian wine scene. In 1968 Sassicaia, a blend of Cabernets Sauvignon and Franc, was first released and the rest, as they say, is history. The "Super Tuscan" was born and the fame and reputation of Sassicaia has only continued to grow. Guidalberto is its own wine and one whose reputation continues to grow. Le Difese is the estate's entry level offering. All of these wines are in very short supply and sold on allocation only. In a world of ever-changing wine styles, Sassicaia seems to have been able to maintain its signature style of elegance and purity.

ABRUZZO

TORRE DE BEATI

This family venture was established in 1999 by Fausto Albanese and his partner Adriana Galasso when they started to cultivate the Montepulciano vines planted in 1972 by Adriana's father, Rocco. They immediately converted the vineyard to organic viticulture and in 2004 they bought a further 8 hectares where they continued to plant Montepulciano, but also the native white varieties Pecorino and Trebbiano. Word of mouth of the quality of their wines spread quickly throughout Italy and in recent years they have received glowing reviews and awards from all the major Italian wine publications. Abruzzo is known for generous and approachable wines, but these wines have a complexity and elegance that is rare in the region

PIETRADOLCE

Pietradolce's wines come from 11 hectares of ancient vines at altitudes of 600-900 metres on the slopes of Europe's most infamous volcano – Mount Etna. Michele Faro creates wines of great tension and precision from indigenous varieties Nerello Mascalese and Carricante. For those unfamiliar with the styles – the reds are broody and elegant and will appeal to lovers of Burgundy and the great wines of Northern Italy, Barolo & Barbaresco; the whites are vibrant and textural and while unique in character will appeal to lovers of Chablis & Riesling.

FAMILIA TORRES

One of the family names most synonymous with quality wine in the world. At all levels, Torres produces consistently excellent wines and are passionate when it comes to investment in education, wine science, and raising awareness of the impact of climate change. Year after year Torres is viewed as the world's most admired wine brand and with just cause. From their iconic Mas La Plana wine, which shone a spotlight on Spain internationally through to their estates in other parts of Spain, such as Celeste in Ribera del Duero, Torres possess a golden touch and craft delicious wines.

JEAN LEON

Jean Léon's story is one that could be used to typify the American dream - a young Spanish immigrant to America who made his fortune in the Hollywood restaurant trade and went home home to establish a winery in Catalonia. The story is absolutely fascinating but space precludes us from recounting it here (do check it out though). Jean was a revolutionary in his day because he planted Chardonnay and Bordeaux varietals and made wines that shook up the rather moribund Spanish wine world of the time (Miguel Torres - now Senior but then Junior - was doing the same!). Jean's full and eventful life came to an end in 1996. But innovation continues at the winery, with the production of wines made from indigenous grape varieties rescued from extinction, such as Forcada.

MARQUES DE RISCAL

Founded in 1858 by Camilo Hurtado de Amézaga, Marqués de Riscal is one of the oldest wineries in Rioja. Its history is based on two fundamental values - tradition and innovation. These two concepts have allowed it to achieve exceptional levels of quality, making its wines something unique. Their Reserva is a Rioja classic that sets a benchmark for the entire region. Today, Marqués de Riscal continues to make history with its outstanding City of Wine, an ambitious project designed to connect the modern world with its rich heritage in winemaking.

HACIENDA LOPEZ DE HARO

These wines are created in the heartland of the Rioja Alta region in San Vicente de la Sonsierra. They marry tradition and modernity harmoniously. Bright, pure and focused while still using traditional techniques of élevage. There is a delightful richness of fruit across the range with plenty of grip and seriousness too - perfect food wines. Testimony to the millennia-long history of winemaking in La Sonsierra are lagares hewn out of the rock near the vineyards. This history is no surprise given the microclimate here - protected by the Tolono mountain range to the north and the river Ebro to the south. La Sonsierra is also home to a huge amount of old bush vine Tempranillo which adds amazing depth and character to these wines.

EL PACTO

The El Pacto range of wines has expanded considerably in our portfolio this year with a range of wines that all speak to tradition and a real sense of place. The Alto Najerilla white, a field blend from vines averaging 60 years old, is a wonderful alternative for those finding white Burgundy too pricey these days. The 'Ojo Gallo' recreates a tradition of a field blend of both red and white varieties, and is a breath of fresh air. The other red wines range from the silky, perfumed El Pacto de la Sonsierra, to the complex and intense, very old-vine single-vineyard wines Riojanda and Valdechuecas, both available in very limited quantities. This is a range that truly expands our understanding of Rioja beyond Crianza, Reserva and Gran Reserva.

TORO

MATSU

The faces staring out from these labels look like they could tell a thousand stories and represent the winemakers of Toro, men and women with an emotional attachment to the vineyards of Toro. And what vineyards they are! The Tinta de Toro (Tempranillo) vines used for the reds range in age from 80 years old to over 100 years and have the richness and complexity that one would expect. La Jefa is a rare white wine from a region famous for red. Made principally from very old Malvasia vines in a non-interventionist style, this is a wine that will surprise and delight wine lovers.

RIAS BAIXAS & MONTERREI

VINA ALMIRANTE

Vina Almirante is one of the most important wineries in Northwest Spain. Its properties are located in the borough of Portas in the Caldas de Reis region situated in the northern part of Salnes Valley. These vineyards, which extend over 35 hectares, are treated with tender loving care in keeping with state-of-the-art vine growing techniques. As well as offering two Albarino wines that are superb value, this year we have taken on a delightfully fresh and fruity Mencia, 'Paixón', that has excellent varietal character.

RIBERA DEL DUERO

BARDOS

The Bardos Ribera del Duero wines come from two locations. The Crianza comes from Páramo de Corcos, a challenging region at 900m above sea level, while the Vinedos de Altura and Villalvaro come from Ribera Soriana, above 1000m altitude. The Crianza is 100% Tinta Fina (Tempranillo) and is aged for 14 months in second use French oak. The elegant Vinedos de Altura is aged in a range of different sized barrels and vats, while the intensely rich Villalvaro, almost paradoxically, is aged for 12 months in 5,000 litre oak casks. The white hails from Rueda and is an excellent expression of Verdejo, offering superb value for money.

PROYECTO GARNACHA

The collection of wines 'Proyecto Garnacha de España' is a tribute to a variety that had until recently been under-rated due to its complicated viticulture and its difficult production. Garnacha has been rescued from obscurity thanks, in large part, to producers creating wines of purity, freshness and focus, often at high altitudes and from ancient bush vines. This has rejuvenated the appreciation for the wines of this incredible variety. Here are three wines of the same variety expressing their different terroirs.

GERMANY / RHEINGAU

PETER JAKOB KUHN

For over 200 years the Kuhn family have been at the forefront of viticulture & winemaking in Germany. The current generation of the family is led by Peter Jakob, his wife Angela and their son, Peter Bernhard. With a keen feeling of responsibility in continuing this long tradition in 2004 they moved their entire production to biodynamics. Their goal is to produce “soulful wine in the greatest possible harmony with nature.” This is achieved with aplomb – the wines are a delight and are exemplars of those oft-used wine terms, ‘minerality’ and ‘freshness’.

WINE TRENDS

There have been a number of trends in wine over the last few years, from the emergence of the 'natural' or low intervention scene, to the rise and rise of Rosé, however, here are the three key trends that we see as critical that should be represented and highlighted by all of our customers.

Grape Varieties

While it's unlikely that we'll see the death of the lust for Pinot Grigio and Sauvignon Blanc any time soon, it's inspiring to see how successful varieties that are off the beaten track, such as Gruner Veltliner and Assyrtiko, can be. We have also seen the resurrection of 'lost' varietals that are being rediscovered. Masi have revived Oseleta to add grip and structure to their Veronese wines. The "Ancestral Varieties" programme from Familia Torres is bringing forgotten Catalan varietals to life. It is certain that we are an adventurous nation, and we demand that there is always something a little more adventurous to choose from.

Healthier Choices

Consumers are making healthier choices suited for their own lifestyle. When this comes to wine, this can mean a reduction in the amount of alcohol that they are consuming on a weekly basis. In reality this manifests itself in many ways including abstinence, drinking lower alcohol wines or drinking fewer but more premium glasses of wine. Understanding that these trends persist is key so that you can ensure that you satisfy the needs of your customers

Sustainability

This is not just a trend in wine but features in all areas of consumers' lives as they demand to know what impact their choices are making on the planet. We represent several pioneers in sustainability, and under our 'Give Wine A Future' programme we are committed to bringing you the information that you need to help you make better choices for your business and so that you can pass this onto your customers. This year we moved our entire portfolio to only work with suppliers who go above and beyond in their efforts to be sustainable, across the entirety of their business. I urge you to highlight these wines to your customers, whether this is in a wine list or on a shelf so that we can all give more power to this movement.

AUSTRIA / BURGENLAND

FERDINAND MAYR

Ferdinand Mayr is a famous Austrian musician, sommelier and wine educator who has created his own labels of classic Austrian wines. The Gruner Veltliner and Blaufrankisch are spot on examples of their varietals and offer terrific value. New this year is the Riesling, which is dry and zesty and again belies its modest price.

CZECH REPUBLIC / MORAVIA

KRASNA HORA

The roots of this small winery go back to the early 1960s when the first family vineyard was planted. Since then, they have come a long way, focusing on releasing high quality, biodynamic wines from small parcels of premium fruit after long and careful ageing in their cellar, located behind the vineyard. The region of Moravia is situated at the very limit of where grapes can be grown in Central Europe, in the south-eastern corner of the Czech Republic. The cool temperature in the region provides the wines with vivid brightness and freshness.

GREECE / CRETE

LYRARAKIS

The Lyrarakis winery is situated in the heart of Heraklion on the beautiful island of Crete. In 2016 they celebrated their 50th anniversary. The winery balances innovation and tradition and has been at the forefront of bringing obscure local varieties back to life, in particular the wonderful Dafni. High altitude viticulture (400-550m) brings the signature vibrancy and freshness in these wines and winemaker Myriam Ambuzer uses a range of techniques to bring out the essential character of each varietal.

LEBANON / BEKAA VALLEY

CHATEAU MUSAR

Established in 1930 by Gaston Hochar, Chateau Musar makes outstanding wines in the beautiful and historic Bekaa Valley in Lebanon. The international success of the brand was due to the drive, passion & vision of Gaston's son Serge. The untimely passing of Serge in 2014 left a real void in the wine world, as he was one of the true legends of the industry. In recent years, Serge's sons, Gaston and Marc have been at the helm and continue to deliver these unique wines, with Chateau Musar red famous for its ageing potential.

CONO SUR

Cono Sur Vineyards & Winery was founded in 1993, with the vision of producing expressive and innovative wines that convey the spirit of the New World. Right from the start, Cono Sur applied new ideas and technology to traditional winemaking methods. Pinot Noir is a grape where Cono Sur has developed a particular expertise. From the entry level wine up to the superb Ocio, these are Pinots from the cool-climate Casablanca and San Antonio Valleys. Pinot Noir is known as an expensive variety to produce, but these wines represent outstanding value at each level. Ocio has consistently scored 94 to 95 points in the Wine Advocate since the 2013 vintage.

ARGENTINA / TUPUNGATO

MASI TUPUNGATO

Masi has taken the oenological practices and winemaking techniques for which they are renowned in Italy's Veneto and adapted them to the natural environment and culture of Argentina. The result is an exciting range of wines blending Argentina's native Torrontes and Malbec grapes alongside traditional varieties from Masi's home in the Veneto. The techniques of appassimento (laying grapes out to dry) and double fermentation have been adapted here with great results, thanks to the favourable climate. "Passo Doble" is a play on words – the passionate Argentinian dance and the double fermentation method used in the wine's production both finding reference in the name.

AGOSTINO

The wines of the Agostino family are new to our portfolio this year. In 2003, after 30 years of establishing a successful real estate company in Canada, the family decided to plant new roots in their childhood town of Mendoza, Argentina. After a long search, they acquired vineyards in the Maipu region of Mendoza. It is from their vineyards and winery there that these entry level Malbecs come. They offer a perfect balance of fruitiness and easy drinking that is loved by Irish Malbec fans.

KANONKOP

Kanonkop Estate is often referred to as South Africa's closest equivalent to a French Premier Cru. The winery, located just outside Stellenbosch, is truly beautiful and a visit is recommended, as is a visit to the Art Gallery. The absolute commitment to quality and the production of the best quality wines is unrelenting. Their Estate Pinotage is rare proof that this grape is capable of being crafted into wines of complexity and elegance. Their Paul Sauer is a polished and stylish Bordeaux blend, that frequently garners high scores from critics. Sadly, we get only a small allocation of this wine.

LADYBIRD

Kanonkop has always been famous for its red wines but after acquiring an adjoining vineyard, they have inherited and improved this lovely organic Chenin Blanc under the Ladybird label. The fruit for the wine comes from organically farmed estate vineyards, with the Chenin Blanc vines 50 years old. It was fermented in open top tanks with extended skin contact and spent a whopping 14 months on the lees in old wood and concrete eggs. It has a complexity that is exceptional for a wine of this price. This is a brilliant addition to our South African range.

AUSTRALIA / COONAWARRA

WYNNS COONAWARRA

Wynns is one of the original and iconic Australian producers. Since the first vineyards were planted by visionary Scottish pioneer John Riddoch in 1891, Wynns Coonawarra Estate has built a reputation as the Coonawarra region's pre-eminent wine producer. The wines today are made by two women, Sue Hodder who joined Wynns in 1998, assisted by Sarah Pidgeon. The two Estate wines, a zesty and modern Chardonnay and a medium-bodied, silky Shiraz, offer outstanding value for money for such a premium wine region. The Black Label Cabernet Sauvignon, first made in 1954, is famously long-lived and is a benchmark wine. John Riddoch, the flagship wine, is a definitive Coonawarra Cabernet Sauvignon and is made in small quantities only in the best years from the top estate fruit. For those who think Australia can't produce elegant wines, we think these wines very much prove otherwise.

LITTLE BEAUTY

Independent and privately-owned, Little Beauty's first vintage was in 2008. A small producer, with just 0.14% of total production in Marlborough, sustainability has always been at the forefront of what they do. Applying their belief that great wine starts in the vineyard, they found the perfect site at an old sheep farm with alluvial/silt soils - planting took 6 years. Marlborough has a maritime climate, with high sunshine hours and extreme diurnal temperature variances. Marlborough pioneered sustainable viticulture in New Zealand and 96% of total vineyard land is audited for sustainable practices. Biodiversity promotion programmes are in place in their vineyards, with cover crops planted between vine rows, animal grazing for natural compost from manure. In addition, native shrubs and plants left to thrive, promoting insect and bird life. In the winery, a modern, efficient approach is applied, and indigenous yeast activity is encouraged. Rainwater is harvested into "irrigation wells" and modern technology ensures controlled and specific application of water. Another key focus of holistic sustainability is the wellbeing of the work force.

GRGICH HILLS

Miljenko “Mike” Grgich first gained international recognition at the celebrated “Judgement of Paris” in 1976. Then, in a now-historic blind tasting, a panel of eminent French judges swirled, sniffed, and sipped an array of the fabled white Burgundies of France and a small sampling of upstart Chardonnays from the Napa Valley. When their scores were tallied, the French judges were shocked; they had chosen the 1973 Chateau Montelena Chardonnay, crafted by Mike Grgich, as the finest white wine in the world. Mike passed away in December 2023 at the fine age of 100 years old. Today, the Grgich and Hills families remain committed to organic farming and to making distinctive wine, fermented with indigenous yeasts, and aiming for purity, consistency and longevity. In the last few years Grgich Hills has once again shown its longstanding commitment to the environment and the planet by qualifying for regenerative agriculture certification.

BEAULIEU VINEYARDS

Founded in 1900 by Georges de Latour, Beaulieu Vineyard — named after his wife’s exclamation, “Quel beau lieu!” (“What a beautiful place!”) — rose to prominence as an iconic American winery by producing sacramental wine during Prohibition, eventually becoming Napa’s first growth. The term “Rutherford Dust” was coined by the early Beaulieu Vineyard winemaker André Tchelistcheff and informs the terroir-driven profile of all BV wines. For 120 years, Beaulieu Vineyard has known what’s good for the earth is best for the wine, and they take sustainability seriously to ensure the longevity of the Napa Valley, with innovation and terroir expression at the heart of everything they do. As part of Treasury Wine Estates, Beaulieu Vineyard adheres to the three sustainable pillars of - Building a resilient business; Fostering healthy and inclusive communities and Producing sustainable wine.

STAGS’ LEAP

Stags’ Leap Vineyard takes great pride in crafting exceptional wines that reflect the unique terroir of the Napa Valley. With many of the recently-released wines earning 90+ points from leading critics, their commitment to quality, craftsmanship, and excellence is evident. Grapes were first planted on the land in 1872 with the wines developing an early reputation for quality. The origin of the name is not well-documented, although legend speaks of a stag leaping through the grounds to escape hunters. Winemaker Ludovic Dervin’s winemaking philosophy is informed by the sum of his varied experiences as a flying winemaker: he makes wine the way he learned in France, to showcase the fruit and not the winemaker’s hand.

BERINGER

Beringer Vineyards holds the distinction of being the oldest continuously operating winery in the Napa Valley. It is also one of the very few wineries that survived the draconian prohibition of 1922, which lasted over a decade. The estate is also in the National Register for Historic Places as an historic district, a status it has held since 2001. With its perfect blend of modern technology and age-old traditions, Beringer Vineyards still produces memorable wines that continue to bring recognition to the company and all of Napa Valley.

SONOMA COUNTY

MARIMAR TORRES

Marimar Torres has been directing the activities at her estate in the Russian River Valley of Sonoma County since 1986. Only 16 kilometres from the Pacific Ocean and 80 kilometres north of San Francisco, the site is influenced by the sea's cooling breezes and drifting fog. That is why Marimar Torres selected this privileged location to "export" the Torres family legacy of fine wines to California. The cool climate she selected is ideal for producing exquisite Pinot Noir and Chardonnay.

FORTIFIED WINES / JEREZ

WILLIAMS & HUMBERT

Williams and Humbert was founded in 1877 by Sir Alexander Williams, a great admirer and connoisseur of sherry products, and Arthur Humbert, a specialist in international relations. These days the company is owned by the Medina family, who had started their own company in the 1960s. Paola Medina Sheldon is the second generation of this family and the person who is the mastermind behind a new concept - vintage sheries. These are wines that are statically aged in 600L American oak barrels for varying lengths of time - not dynamically aged in the traditional solera system. Paola was named in 2022 as one of the top 6 leading winemakers in Spain in Decanter Magazine, which said that she symbolises the "sherry revolution". These are serious and distinctive wines that must be tried.

GRAHAM'S PORT

The house of W&J Graham was founded in 1820 and has earned an unmatched reputation as the leading producer of premium Port wines. The company has been owned by just two families in its entire history; originally founded by the Grahams, it was acquired by the Symington family in 1970. Today, five members of the family work in the company. The Symingtons are members of the exclusive Primum Familiae Vini, a grouping of eleven leading wine families in the world. Graham's Vintage Ports are always amongst the most highly rated wines when a vintage is declared.

SPIRITS / SPAIN

TORRES SPAIN SPIRITS

While Torres are most famous for their exceptional wines, there are parts of the world in which they are more renowned for their excellent brandies. Torres 10, probably the most recognised Spanish brandy around the world, is a classic solera-method Spanish brandy. Torres 20 is a stunning spirit, distilled from wines made of Paredada and Ugni Blanc grapes, aged initially in new oak and then transferred to old wood for long ageing. The packaging is also very beautiful.

MIRABEAU

Owned by English couple Stephen and Jeany Cronk, this 14 ha estate in Provence represents a lifelong dream. BCORP certified, and pursuing organic certification, the estate is also moving towards a future of regenerative farming. Domaine Mirabeau is a true farm, complete with animals that all play a key part in the ecosystem. Free range chickens and ducks provide eggs, as well as eating insects that destroy plants; the pigs help reduce their food waste and alpacas provide manure for the vegetable garden. The Cronks have also set ambitious goals to become entirely plastic-free, convert to 100% sustainable energy, and minimise the use of precious resources like water, energy, and raw materials.

NON ALCOHOLIC

It is a fact that younger generations are choosing to drink less alcohol, and this includes individuals who choose not to drink alcohol at all. When you combine this with other reasons to abstain, such as religious, health, driving and well-being reasons, this means that having a wide repertoire of non-alcoholic drinks is now mandatory to maximise your customers' spend with you. When it comes to wine there is an opportunity for the wine trade to help with great quality 0.0% options. As technology has improved, so has the quality and now no wine list or wine shop should be without a non-alcoholic option on offer.
